"My Dear British Comrades"

Replying to a welcome at a meeting of the British Legion's national executive council attended recently by German ex-Servicemen, the Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gother, the leader of a good-will delegation, declared:—

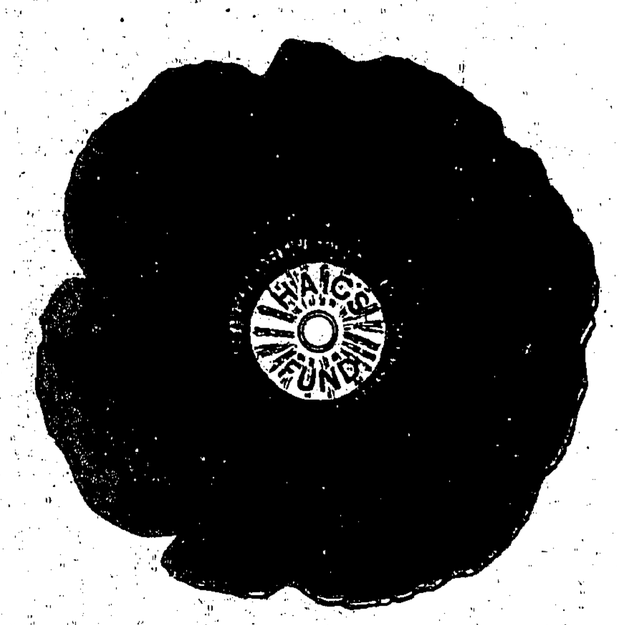
The Symbol of This Day

REMEMBRANCE



NOVEMBER 11th

Yesterday And To-Day

There ran a quiver through the softened glade:
The squirrels paused to leap from bough to tree;
Forgot the very joy of being free,
And, quaking, stood silent in the shade
While from the sylvan depths Pan, piping, played
With glittering notes a warbling ecstacy
Of stark defiance to whate'er might be,
And, playing, the last god began to fade.

While over Bethlehem a shining star,
Guided to a lowly manger shorn
Of comfort, where an humble pair did bide,
Three wise men from Eastern lands afar,
'Twas in that hour the infant Christ was born,
While Pan, in distant woods, still piping, died.

In the blushed eagerness of youth they went . . .
To fight for what? They said, "But this shall be
A war to end war; therefore, battle we
Our hearts towards this noble purpose bent."
The hurtling guns their bodies racked and rent;
They fought and died, the Dove of Peace to free,
To succour and to save humanity;
Stopped, writhing in the mud, their brief life spent.

And now to-day memorials boast our pride
In those who died for us, yet all in vain!
Though there are carved the words, "Lest we forget,"
Those voices seem to say, "Although we died
The war-clouds gather gloomy once again.
It seems Man has not learnt his lesson yet."

A THOUGHT

You saw him, he had just returned on leave from France.

What a thrill of pride you felt in his mud-stained tunic, his battered shrapnel-helmet — "Tin hat" he called it.

You remember how he hunched the weight of his equipment to the other shoulder as he answered with a happy grin "Ten days!"—Did he come through all right? You have sometimes wondered — but not often of late.

It is a long time since the War, and we are apt to forget—yet there are obligations we should remember.—H.S.H.

Special Broadcasts

FROM HONG KONG AND LONDON

At 10.50 a.m. this morning there will be a relay of the Service of Remembrance from the Cenotaph with a short descriptive commentary by Mr. K. Stuart-Smith.

At 6.20 p.m. local listeners will hear a descriptive talk relayed from Whitehall, London. At 6.25 p.m. a relay will commence of the Service of Remembrance from the Cenotaph. The music will be supplied by the combined bands of the Brigade of Guards. There will be a short service conducted by the Bishop of London (Right Rev. Dr. A. F. Winnington-Ingram).

St. Dunstan's Growing Needs

New Holiday Home At Rottingdean

Blinded soldiers, sailors, and airmen under the care of St. Dunstan's are to have a new Convalescent and Holiday Home at Rottingdean. It will replace the present home at Brighton which is inadequate for the growing needs of the organisation.

There will be 130 beds for the men, and suitable accommodation for the staff, as well as a chapel, lounges and a winter garden, in a modern six-storey building of fireproof steel and concrete. It is hoped to complete the Home in the autumn of 1937.

The 21st annual report of St. Dunstan's, which contains details of the new Home, states that in the last three years 75 new cases have come to St. Dunstan's, all of them victims of "delayed blindness" directly due to war service, often to the effect of mustard-gas poisoning. These new patients are trained, taught, and cared for just as their comrades were twenty-one years ago.

Comprehensive Programme For Hong Kong—Ceremonies And Services

Hong Kong's observance of Armistice Day to-day will be on similar lines as in past years.

The Two Minutes Silence will be observed at the Cenotaph where there will be a special service in commemoration of those who gave up their lives for their country in the great war. The silence will be at 11 a.m. following which high officials, representatives of organisations and members of the public will lay wreaths at the base of the memorial.

At 11.45 a.m. there will be a ceremony at the Chinese Memorial Gate, Botanic Gardens.

CHURCH SERVICES

With regard to Church services, Holy Communion of Commemoration will be celebrated in St. John's Cathedral followed by the laying of a wreath on the Cathedral War Memorial Cross.

A short service of commemoration will be held in St. Andrew's Church at 10.40 a.m. while a similar service of commemoration is taking place at the Kowloon Union Church at 10.45 a.m.

Collections in all Churches will be in aid of Earl Haig's Fund.

At 9.15 p.m. to-night, the Hong Kong Singers will render Brahms' Requiem in St. Andrew's Church, the soloists being Miss Eva Turner and the Rev. H. W. Baines, and the conductor, Mr. Lindsay Lafford. The proceeds will be in aid of the Ministering Children's League and the St. Andrew's Church Benevolent Fund.

ENTERTAINMENTS

The theatres are offering splendid programmes. At the King's there is "White Fang"; at the Queen's, "To Give My Life"; Alhambra, "Sky Parade"; Star, "Vagabond King" (an old favourite musicale with "Jeanette MacDonald and Dennis King); Oriental, "Anything Goes" (Bing Crosby); Majestic, "Moonlight Murder"; and World, Chinese picture.

SPORTS

Soccer enthusiasts will be well catered for at the Club ground where an exhibition football charity match will be played between the Combined Services and the Rest of the Colony.

The S.C.A.A. are holding their athletic meeting at Caroline Hill.

DANCES

The Royal Engineers' Old Comrades Association are holding their Armistice Dance at the Peninsula Hotel to-night and a large attendance is anticipated. There is also a dance at the Cheer-o Club at 8 p.m.

"—instilled new life into me"

"Three months ago I started taking Sanatogen on the advice of my doctor. My system had been undermined by years of neurotic strain and mental debility and I could not expect miracles to happen.

But a miracle did happen, and in a few short weeks I found myself acquiring a new sense of well-being. Depression disappeared. All neurotic tendencies have gone. Now after three months of regular treatment of Sanatogen, I am reborn. Sanatogen has instilled new life into me. It is amazing."

J.M.

A miracle? No! Simply the logical effect of a true scientific nerve-food on weakened nerves. Sanatogen contains the two vital elements—glycero-phosphate and pure milk albumin—your nerve cells need. It must strengthen and revitalise your body and nerves.

Why not try it for yourself and feel the wonderful influence of Sanatogen on your whole health and happiness.

WATERING STREETS

Suggested Schemes Not Feasible

URBAN COUNCIL MEETING

A meeting of the Urban Council was held in the Post Office Building yesterday afternoon when the questions put forward by Dr. R. A. de Castro Basto, relating to the watering of Hong Kong streets, were answered by Mr. R. R. Todd, Chairman, as follows:—

(1) Has the Government permanently abandoned the practice of watering the streets in this Colony?—A. The sprinkling of streets with water was abandoned in 1928 but all sidewalks, surface channels, scavenging lanes and stone steps (with the exception of those on the Peak) are washed once a week.

(2) Is it not feasible to resume it by the employment of water carts?—A. The sprinkling of streets by means of water carts is of little benefit except temporarily to lay dust. It is considered that in view of the small amount of dust in the streets the expense would not be justified.

(3) If fresh water is not available throughout the year for this purpose, could not a mixture of fresh and sea water be used instead?—A. The use of sea water for sprinkling or flushing the streets has been abandoned because salt water deleteriously affects certain road surfaces and because the use of sea water on the roads causes skidding of motor vehicles. The use of sea water on the upper levels would also involve the expense of pumping or carting the water to these levels.

EXTRA STAFF NECESSARY

(4) If it is thought that water would make the streets slippery, is it not possible to flush them at night?—A. While it is not thought that flushing the streets with fresh water would make the streets slippery, to flush them at night would entail the use of extra staff which is not at present available. I would also point out that no assurance can yet be given by the Water Authority that water restrictions have been lifted for all time. When such an assurance is given the question of flushing the streets as well as washing the sidewalks, surface channels, etc., with main water will be further considered.

NORTH LONDON'S NEW SPORTS STADIUM

Harringay Arena, North London's sports stadium, which is modelled closely on the famous Maple Leaf gardens in Toronto and has a bowl-like effect which gives spectators in every part of the building an unobstructed view, was officially opened recently by the Mayor of Tottenham.

Exhibition skating, which included a display by Miss Cecilia Colledge, had a great reception. In an ice hockey match between the two Harringay teams the Greyhounds beat the Racers by 4 goals to 2.

RAIN FOR TOBACCO

Medicine Man Induce Skies To Open

A rain for a plug of tobacco!

"Nonsense" would be the reply of sophisticated dwellers of the south but M. Jepson of the provincial natural resources department, and Nick Carter, provincial forestry pilot, have learned to entertain different views, states the "Leader Post" Saskatchewan, (Regina).

In late June, when forest fires were raging in the north, the two men landed at Montreal Lake. There "Old Frederick," whose right name is Wee-Tee-go or Musqua (meaning witchman or medicine man), a native of the reserve there, offered to bring them rain for some tobacco.

Skeptical, the provincial men gave Old Frederick a plug of tobacco, after some dickering. Within 24 hours rain was plentiful and all but one or two bad fires, were put out.

The old Indian has been bringing down moisture at rates ranging from one plug of tobacco for a light shower to five plugs for a good downpour, it is claimed in the northland.

Old Frederick does quite a trade with the natives around Montreal Lake. When they plan a trip up the lake 38 miles long, they "come across" with necessary tobacco for a favourable wind, and generally they get the wind they want.

Old Frederick sports a long beard, long white hair too thin to braid three-inch finger nails, and toe nails so long they curve like a ram's horns. He can remember incidents of the Riel rebellion, but does not know his own age. His friends say he is about 80 years old

A JOKE AS SEEN BY DR. GOEBBELS

"Pseudo-Intellectual Aberrations"

Swift action against the outspoken periodical "Der Querschnitt," which published an "unofficial dictionary" of modern German usage, has been taken by Dr. Goebbels, Minister of Propaganda.

Dr. Goebbels has banned the periodical indefinitely, and the author and editor are to be summoned to appear before their professional court.

The announcement of the ban describes the offending article as "a collection of malicious pseudo-intellectual aberrations, in part definitely hostile to the State." The following are quotations from the "dictionary."

"Absurd"—When one hopes for better times.

"Character"—An obstacle to one's career.

"Serial"—The part of a newspaper which people still read.

"Finance"—A cross-word puzzle for the State.

"Hocus-Pocus"—See politics.

"Ideals"—Toys for grown-up children.

"Journalism"—Tight-rope walking between the lines.

"Optimist"—An incurable.

"Politics"—Modern expression for black magic.

LORD TWEEDSMUIR. D.D.

The Governor-General, Lord Tweedsmuir, received recently the degree of Doctor of Divinity from Victoria University at the celebration of the 100th anniversary of the Institution's Royal Charter.

It is believed that this is the first instance in Canada of this honour being conferred on a layman.

Lord Tweedsmuir's tenure of the office of Lord High Commissioner to the Church of Scotland in 1933 and 1934 made it appropriate in the opinion of the University authorities for them to request his Excellency to accept the degree, usually reserved for theologians.

Victoria University is affiliated to the University of Toronto.

RECORD NUMBER OF DIVORCES

4,547 Last Year

More divorces were granted in England and Wales in 1935 than in any previous year, states the "Morning Post."

The Civil Judicial Statistics, issued recently, show that the number of decrees nisi for dissolution of marriage in the year was 4,547, compared with 4,200 in 1934, 3,988 in 1933, and 3,625 in 1932. The decrees were granted on the petitions of 2,088 husbands and 2,459 wives.

The number of matrimonial petitions filed in 1935 was 5,478, an increase of 432 on the 1934 figures. Matrimonial causes numbering 1,999, of which 1,197 were Poor Persons' cases, were tried at Assizes.

94,001 HIGH COURT ACTIONS

The total of legal actions in the three divisions of the High Court, on the other hand, showed a decrease of two per cent, and the number in the King's Bench was the lowest since 1920. The total for all divisions was 94,001, compared with 96,206 in 1934. In the Chancery Division there was a decrease of 2,330 to 82,501, and in the Probate, Divorce and Admiralty Division there was an increase of 389 to 5,869.

Appeals to the House of Lords were 42, compared with 69 in 1934, but appeals set down in the Court of Appeal showed an increase of 47 to 629, the increase being mainly due to appeals from county courts.

The number of Poor Persons' cases again increased, and over 90 per cent. related to matrimonial proceedings.

BISHOP URGES CHANGE IN DIVORCE LAWS

The "bitter scorn and contempt which some novelists pour upon marriage" was criticised by the Bishop of Winchester (Dr. Cyril Garbett) at his Diocesan Conference recently. He also used strong words about divorce.

"I do not know which is the more contemptible," he said, "the weakness of one man who takes the blame for a sin he has not committed or the meanness of the woman who expects him to do so.

"The unhappy unions from which relief is sought in the courts are few in number compared to the vast majority who are thoroughly happy in their married lives.

"There are sufficient grounds for some change in the existing divorce laws. Those who are best acquainted with their working are convinced that amendment is required. It will be a mistake if as Churchmen we offer a rigid opposition to any and every proposed change in these laws.

"We must insist on the right of the Church to exercise its discipline over its own members. The Church, on this, should be free.

"In administering the Church's discipline I think we can accept as innocent those whom the court regard as such."

PALPITATION NOT HEART DISEASE

Doctor's Research Conclusions

Palpitation is rarely due to organic disease of the heart itself. This is the conclusion reached by a woman doctor after a careful clinical and statistical study, the results of which are recorded in the current issue of the "Lancet," states the "London Morning Post."

A large number of patients were examined, including a group in whom palpitation was the main symptom—a series of 900 consecutive patients at the National Hospital for Diseases of the Heart, and a series of children attending three rheumatic supervisory centres.

As a result it is concluded that although disorders of the heart associated with thyroid gland disease, high blood pressure and certain disturbances of rhythm, may give rise to palpitation, 50 per cent. of all patients with this symptom have completely normal hearts and most patients with severe heart disease never complain of palpitation at all.

A large number of patients with palpitation are, in fact, suffering from psychological maladies, but there are also many disorders which lead to palpitation. These include indigestion, especially when associated with flatulence, obesity, debility after an illness or operation, dietetic upsets produced by excessive tea drinking, coffee, alcohol and such foods as peas, beans, newly-baked bread and cakes, smoking, anxiety, and septic teeth or tonsils.

"I HATE BEING SEVENTY"

Mr. H. G. Wells On His Birthday

"LIFE NOT HALF LONG ENOUGH"

The covers of the menu cards at a banquet in the Savoy Hotel, London, recently, represented Mr. H. G. Wells—as seen by a cartoonist—vaulting gleefully over his "seventieth mile-stone."

The members of the P.E.N. Club had met to honour Mr. Wells at a special birthday dinner. Mr. J. B. Priestley was in the chair; M. André Maurois spoke on behalf of Mr. Wells's foreign admirers; Miss G. B. Stern represented, in her own words, "a million Andromedas thanking Perseus for rescuing them from the monster of the Victorian Papa"; Professor Julian Huxley spoke for Science; and Mr. Bernard Shaw gave a characteristic tribute.

"Poor old Wells," said Mr. Shaw as he rose. "He is now going on for eighty. I am going on for ninety. . . ." The guests laughed as he went on to wonder what "impression of senility, obsolescence and decrepitude" he and Mr. Wells were making on the assembly.

Mr. Wells certainly showed no signs of weariness when he stood at the end of a long evening to acknowledge a great outburst of applause.

HARDLY BEGUN

He hated being seventy, he said, and compared himself to a little boy at a lovely party who had been given a lot of toys to play with, and who had spread them on the floor.

"Then comes the nurse," added Mr. Wells regretfully. "'Now, Master Bertie,' she says, 'It's getting late. Time you began to put away your toys.' I don't want in the least to put away my toys. I hate the thought of leaving. Life is not half long enough for my taste. Few of my games are nearly finished, and some I feel have hardly begun."

He talked about his games—first, the "game of encyclopaedism." They needed a "infinitely more powerful sort of encyclopaedism—a real modern sort, which could assemble knowledge, correlate ideas, make them more widely accessible, and so hold the mind of this distraught world together."

"BOUT WITH TALKIES"

Film-making next: "I've tried to make the talkies say something. So far I've not proved very competent at that. . . . All the same, I'd like a few years yet to have just one more bout with it."

Then novels. Mr. Wells said that he would like to write another novel or so. When writers were young, they delighted to play with possibility, to write fantasies and vivid impressions. This was the time for short short stories, quick short stories.

"As we grow up," he continued, we become more and more interested in real character, our own and other people's, and we write about personal reactions. The short stories grow long. Few of us have any original political sense of our own until we are round about forty, and then we incline to the novel of affairs. Each phase in development produces novels after its kind."

Mr. Wells paused. "Yet," he proceeded, "I do not see why after seventy one shouldn't attempt the novel of experience and reflection. I would like to—if only nurse will let me."

OUR NARROW OUTLOOK

Mr. Wells passed on to complain of the narrowness of our outlook on life, and to describe as "one of the most preposterous of our present human limitations" that so few of us escaped being "either what is called left or right."

"We are," he said, "like people travelling along a road that has been banked too steeply. All the time we tend to slew around into this gutter or that. And both gutters, both the left and the right, are full now of blood and wasted life."

He wished we could put an absolute ban on two "damned words"—Leftism and Rightism. Someone had said that if a man were a starfish of being by nature a two-sided animal, how much better he would think.

"I wonder," Mr. Wells commented, "if it is a question of incurable nature.

"Maybe we might do better if we could bring ourselves to think upon our fingers instead of always thinking upon a side. Then perhaps we might not muddle up anarchist syndicalism with State Socialism, Fascism with Toryism or the New Deal.

"In the most vital human concerns there is no right or left at all. There is no left science—in spite of the desperate attempts of some of our Red friends to represent Marxism as a scientific philosophy. Science marches on and marches on, neither to the left nor the right—but marches straight forward. And the real artist, too, goes straight forward. The free activities of the human mind rise supreme above all political considerations."

AIMLESS ADOLESCENT

Three-quarters of the present trouble of the world, Mr. Wells asserted, was due to the moral and intellectual confusions of the aimless adolescent. That was not the fault of the old—the old knew no better. It was the stress of change. There had not been time to produce a new and convincing education fast enough to meet our needs.

"Seven-eighths of the hideous killing that is going on now all over the world," he said, "is being done by youngsters—by people well under 30—youngsters fed mentally on stale dogmas or not fed at all.

Only a great free intellectual and moral drive—an educational encyclopaedism—can restore the shattered morale of our race and give a definite direction to its disordered will."

But, he insisted, pain, distress, perplexity and pressure did not spell defeat. Monstrous and pitiful things happen, but the spirit of civilisation was never more alive nor thought more active than at the present time.

EMPIRE WOOL IN GREATER DEMAND

Advance In World Exports

JAPAN'S TEXTILE ACTIVITY

The Empire is emerging from economic depression with a larger share in the world's wool export market than it possessed before, according to a survey of changes in production and consumption of industrial fibres, issued by the Imperial Economic Committee, states the "Morning Post."

During the four years 1932-5 the Empire's share of the wool export market averaged 74.6 per cent. The corresponding figure for 1928-9 was 69 per cent. This amounts to a gain of 8.1 per cent., compared with the pre-depression figure, quite a substantial advance having regard to the large share of this market which the Empire has always held.

Since 1928, the first year covered by the survey, the Empire's wool exports have risen from 1,317.4 to 1,538.8 millions of pounds weight. Those of the rest of the world have fallen from 630.1 to 553 millions of pounds. Production in South Africa has fallen heavily in recent years owing to drought.

"The increasing wool production of the world," the report adds, "has been freely going into consumption, and even difficult seasons have ended with comparatively small stock remaining in producing countries."

PROGRESS OF RAYON

Interesting light is also thrown by the survey on the textile development of Japan.

Japan has supplanted the United Kingdom as the world's largest importer of raw cotton; she is the second largest consumer of cotton; and in eight years has more than doubled her consumption of wool.

In the period reviewed Japan has not only retained her place as the world's chief supplier of raw silk, but has also become a large manufacturer of silk fabrics for export.

An outstanding development during the period under review has been the increased production of rayon. World production in 1928 was estimated at 360 million lb. and in 1935 at nearly 950 million lb. Rayon has definitely established itself as a textile fibre. The United States is the largest producer, and Japan takes second place.

In the absence of consumption statistics in the chief manufacturing countries, the extent to which rayon has been substituted for other textile fibres remains problematical, it is stated, but it is significant to note that three of the largest producers of rayon, Japan, Italy and Germany are countries which are particularly dependent on foreign sources of supply for their textile raw materials.

SCOTLAND YARD SECRETS

"Too Much Safety First Procedure"

Severe criticism of the present methods of the Criminal Investigation Department of Scotland Yard, and the suggestion that, in certain cases, the coroner should be replaced by an official similar to the Scottish Procurator Fiscal are made in a book published recently. ("Secrets of Scotland Yard." The Bodley Head. 12s. 6d.)

The author, Mr. Edwin T. Woodhall, is an ex-member of the Criminal Investigation Department and claims to have an intimate knowledge of its methods. While praising the general efficiency of the "Yard" he doubts the efficacy of modern police procedure, states the "London Morning Post."

"It must be admitted," he writes, "that the past five years constitute a black spot in the history of the C.I.D. It is a deplorable fact that in five years over 20 murders in London have been committed, in none of which have Scotland Yard got their man.

"There is too much 'safety first' about modern police procedure: and this can hardly be wondered at when we remember the public outcry in more than one big case against the questioning of material witnesses, when it has even been hinted that Scotland Yard on occasion resorted to third-degree methods.

"UNFORTUNATE TENDENCY"

"I am afraid that to-day there is an unfortunate tendency to rely too much upon prolonged cross-examination, first by the police and then by some prosy and inexperienced coroner, to supply needed evidence in murder trials, instead of on patient detective work and the rigorous following up of clues and facts."

Continuing Mr. Woodhall suggests that the "antiquated" procedure of the corner's court should be overhauled.

"In place of the coroner, whose office, though of civic utility, is an anachronism in the case of unsolved crimes, I would sugest the appointment of an official similar to the Scottish Procurator Fiscal, who acts very much like the Procurateur-General in France. He should appear in the role of a public investigator, and his qualifications should be legal, medical and criminological. It should be his duty to sift and sort out the evidence, and his should be the ruling as to whether the suspected person should go to a higher court for trial."

MENTAL DEFECTIVES

Further, Mr. Woodhall advocates that all former mental defectives discharged as cured should be watched and, as soon as their actions become suspect should be again put under proper control.

"With such a system at work," he states, "I guarantee that the 'unsolved murder' would become the exception and not, as so unfortunately it is at the present time, the rule."

In this interesting book Mr. Woodhall traces the history of the police force in London from the first "investigator"—Francis Fleetwood, who lived in the reign of Queen Elizabeth—through the Bow Street runners, down to the present day. In addition he describes the work of Scotland Yard and discusses various cases of the past.

PEER'S SON DIES

Thrown While Riding In Steeplechase

Thrown from his horse at Taunton Steeplechases the Hon. Copleston Bampfylde, only son and heir of Lord Poltimore, of Court Hall North Molton, Devon, died at Taunton recently.

Lord and Lady Poltimore were present at their son's bedside when he died.

When the inquest was opened, Reginald Husbands attributed death to cerebral hemorrhage following fracture caused by the fall.

Lord Poltimore, who gave evidence of identification, remarked: "I was told that his horse jumped very big and jumped him off. The horse did not fall, but another horse came on the offside and struck him with his hind foot when he was on the ground."

The Hon. C. Bampfylde was a well-known rider to hounds and at point-to-point races. He was educated at Eton and was a lieutenant in the Royal Horse Guards. He won the Royal Horse Guards Regimental Challenge Cup at Hawthorn Hill last April.

The new heir to the title is Lord Poltimore's brother, the Hon. Arthur Bampfylde, who is 53, and lives in Kenya.

HYPNOTISM TO CURE INFATUATION

U.S. Professor's Success

The successful use of hypnotism to rid a young man of infatuation for another's wife was described by Professor H. W. Martin, of Emory College, Atlanta, states a Home paper.

He said the experiment was carried out on the advice of a doctor, and he warned his hearers that it would only be effective in certain instances. The subject had sought to end his infatuation, but he appeared powerless to combat it.

"When he first came to my office I would not have been surprised to see him jump through the window, glass and all, he was so nervous and irritable."

The professor put him into a trance, gave him a good lecture and succeeded in eliminating moral conflict. "After hypnotic treatment he was quite a different individual."

STUDY IN PSYCHOLOGY

Professor Martin said the College was not conducting a clinic, but was interested in hypnotism as a study in psychological principles. He still believes it is a science with a bright future "when it is better understood and appreciated."

He said the broken infatuation showed that hypnotism can eliminate inclinations or tendencies not too thoroughly established.

"The individual cannot be forced to be hypnotised, but if he is willing to co-operate with the operator he does not have to believe in hypnotism to be brought under its influence. Hypnotism will lessen the will power of the subject only if practised repeatedly on the same individual. The chief danger is that it will become a habit."

THE KING BUYS A POLICE HORSE

Cherry Grove, formerly a patrol horse of the Salford City Police, has been bought by the King for £150.

The Chief Constable of Salford, Major C. V. Godfrey, reported to the Salford Watch Committee recently that a cheque for that amount had been received. The horse was noticed by the Master of the Horse at the Royal Show at Bristol this year.

Cherry Grove, a chestnut gelding standing over 16 hands, has been at the Royal stables at Windsor for some time.

NON-INTERVENTION COMMITTEE

London, Nov. 9.

The ninth meeting of the Chairman's sub-committee of the non-intervention committee was held at the Foreign Office this afternoon, and resumed consideration of the proposal for the establishment of a system of supervision, designed to secure an execution of the non-intervention agreement. This matter will be further considered by the sub-committee tomorrow morning.—

KEELUNG INCIDENT

Lord Cranborne Answers Questions

London, Nov. 9.

In the House of Commons, the Foreign Secretary was asked what satisfaction had been received from the Japanese Government, in reply to representations made on the ill-treatment of three British sailors at Keelung in Formosa.

Lord Cranborne, replying said the Foreign Secretary intended to take an early opportunity of making a full statement on the incident in question. The Government were, however still in discussion with the Japanese Government and he was not able to make any statement to-day.

Mr. Winston Churchill asked when the Foreign Secretary would be able to make a statement on this most serious matter.

Lord Cranborne replied that he fully recognised the serious character of the incident, but he was unable to state when the Foreign Secretary would be able to make his statement.—

DELEGATION TO MADRID

Enquiry By Members Of Parliament

London, Nov. 9.

The Prime Minister was asked in the House of Commons whether the Government would give facilities to an all-party delegation of members of Parliament, to proceed to Madrid in order by their presence to provide some check on the possibility in the event of an insurgent victory, of heavy loss of life amongst the civil population.

Mr. Baldwin replied that the British Government were in full sympathy with the desire expressed that loss of life among the civil population, including the hostages in Madrid, might as far as possible be avoided. The Government had taken at the outset of the dispute all possible steps, both at Madrid and elsewhere, to mitigate sufferings and the loss of life. Moreover they had a representative in Madrid, in whose activities in this and other matters, they had complete confidence.

He did not think therefore, that any further action as suggested, would in the existing circumstances be likely to serve any useful purpose.—

LORD MAYOR'S SHOW

London, Nov. 9.

A "Defence Pageant," showing the history of the London Volunteers from the 16th Century to the present time, was a feature of to-day's traditional Lord Mayor's procession, following the proclamation of Sir George Broadbridge as the new Lord Mayor.

Detachments depicting the Volunteers at the time of Nelson preceded men in the khaki kit of the Boer War and the Great War and anti-aircraft guns, searchlights, tanks and armoured-cars of the modern Army.

Although the traditional representations of the historic City Companies were omitted, the opinion was expressed that the procession was the most colourful display of recent years—

DANZIG DECREE PROTEST

Danzig, Nov. 9.

A Polish protest against the Danzig decree centralising all labour exchange in the hands of the President of the Danzig Senate, Huth, was voiced by the dip'omatic representative of Poland in Danzig, Minister Papee, who, at the same time referred to the incident of the attack on the three Schoenberg villagers, which had aroused a storm of protest and propaganda in Poland, and which was not yet answered in a manner satisfactory to the Polish Government.

All labour exchange in Danzig has been placed under a state labour office, this system also being in practice in a number of other countries.

The attitude of the Danzig authorities about the Schoenberg incident, is that it concerns Danzig alone, since all persons having any part therein are Danzig citizens.—

TOO MANY MEDICAL STUDENTS

Cambridge Plan To Limit Numbers

The action of the Vice-Chancellor recently, in drawing attention to the lack of accommodation available for the increasing number of medical students has received the whole-hearted approval of the University, writes a 'Morning Post' correspondent.

For some time the growing seriousness of the situation has been well-known to the authorities concerned, but this is the first time that public attention has been drawn to the need for some limitation of the number of undergraduates taking up medicine as a career.

In an interview with me to-day, the Vice-Chancellor, Mr. G. H. A. Wilson, Master of Clare College, emphasised the gravity of the position.

"I thought the matter serious enough to be given public attention," he said, "though I fear that there is little that can be done without the co-operation of the colleges. At the moment certain classes have to be duplicated, and the matter is particularly acute with regard to Bio-chemistry, where the accommodation is very limited indeed.

"At the moment, to take an extreme instance, there is absolutely nothing to prevent every college in the University, if they so desire, from being filled with medical students to the exclusion of all others.

"Of course that will never occur, but, nevertheless far too many men are taking up medicine having regard to the present accommodation available. What I envisage is an agreement between the colleges to limit the students in each subject to reasonable proportions."

Such action, I understand, is already being taken by a number of colleges.

DIFFICULT POSITION

"This term we alone have refused with deep regret four students wishing to take medicine," the Senior Tutor of one college informed me. "We would do the same in similar circumstances for any Tripos, as our aim is to have all subjects well represented.

"At the moment some 10 per cent. of our undergraduates are going in for medicine and, frankly, it seems to me that the profession is likely to become overcrowded."

It the cramped Bio-chemistry Laboratories in Tennis Court-road, Dr. N. J. T. M. Needham, University Reader in Bio-chemistry, told me of the difficulties with which the staff have to contend.

"The situation is very difficult indeed," he said. "At the moment we have only accommodation for 25 visiting research students at the most and we are continually turning applicants away.

"With regard to undergraduates, the situation has been aggravated by the fact that Bio-chemistry is now included in the first part of the Natural Science Tripos, and a large number of men are taking it. As a consequence, many classes have to be duplicated, which puts a considerable strain on the staff here.

MONEY LACKING

"Students in their Fourth Year who wish to take an advanced course in Bio-chemistry are likely to suffer severely, since we have only accommodation for twelve of them. It is quite likely we will get 25 applications in the coming term, in which case some will have to be refused.

"The only cure is improved accommodation, for which we need between £40,000 and £50,000. If we can obtain that we have plans for a laboratory which would have unique facilities for Bio-chemistry and experimental anatomy. The room for the extension is there but the money, apparently, is not."

It is estimated that, when Full Term begins about 12 per cent. of the undergraduates will be medical students.

"I'D GIVE MY LIFE"

Give a fine cast, an outstanding story in the formula which has been followed in "I'd Give My Life" which opens to-day at the Queen's Theatre.

Adapted from the "The Noose" famous stage success of ten years ago "I'd Give My Life" is as vital and forceful as thrilling as the headlines of your favourite newspaper. Starting with the fight of an earnest, honest Governor to rid his state of a plague of racketeers who control it, the story moves swiftly through the thrills of the revival of a twenty year old scandal which is revived and held as a weapon over the head of the Governor's wife. Her son is a member of the gang and has been convicted of murder. The Governor refuses to intercede on the boy's behalf.

The march to the gallows along the grim "last mile" starts. Then comes a smashing dramatic surprise, which strikes with the force of a sledge hammer because of its unexpectedness, bringing happiness and peace to suffering innocents, and straightening four tangled lives.

The cast includes Sir Guy Standing, Tom Brown, Frances Drake and Janet Beecher. Directed by Edwin L. Marin.

"WHITE FANG"

The lawless North-country vibrant with romance and drenched with drama, once again flashes across the screen in "White Fang," Jack London's thrill-laden sequel to his "Call Of The Wild," which opens at the King's Theatre to-day.

Featuring an exceptional cast headed by Michael Whalen and Jean Muir, and including Slim Summerville, Charles Winninger the original "Cap'n Henry" of radio fame, John Carradine, Jane Darwell and Thomas Beck, "White Fang" is a stirring story of adventure ranking with the screen's greatest outdoor dramas.

Whalen, fresh from trumphant roles in "Professional Soldier" and "The Country Doctor," has his most ambitious part and gives promise of becoming one of the outstanding young men of the screen. Jean Muir, lovelier than ever in a setting as picturesque as her own beauty, contributes a noteworthy performance while the remainder of the cast is uniformly good.

Slim Summerville and Charles Winninger, especially, deserve mention for their hilarious comic characterizations.

"SKY PARADE"

Jimmie Allen hero of "The Air Adventures of Jimmie Allen" most popular radio serial on the ether waves, has been brought to the screen, and in his first picture "Sky Parade" which opens to-day at the Alhambra Theatre, Jimmie adds new laurels to the fame which his radio performances have earned.

"The Sky Parade" is the full thrilling story of man's conquest of the air; of the transformation of flying from the early stages of dare devil stunts into the safe, sure, dependable force which it has now become.

The film goes back to the days immediately following the war, with the realization of a group of wartime flyers that if this great new world of air travel is ever to be made useful, it must be changed from a side-show performance into something solid and steady.

The cast consists besides Jimmie Allen, William Gargan Katherine DeMille, Kent Taylor, Billy Lee and Bennie Bartlett.

"MOONLIGHT MURDER"

With a spectacular grand opera setting for a climacteric sequence, "Moonlight Murder," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's new mystery romance dealing with the slaying of a tenor before an audience of twenty thousand at the Hollywood Bowl comes to-day to the Majestic Theatre.

As the tenor, Leo Carrillo makes his first appearance as a singer since his musical comedy days on the stage. The new picture co-features Chester Morris as a detective, solving the mystery, and Madge Evans as a laboratory expert who assists in unraveling the baffling case.

The cast includes Duncan Renaldo, Benita Hume, J. Carrol Naish, H. B. Warner, Katherine Alexander, Robert McWade, Frank McHugh, Grant Mitchell and others.

NEWS FLASHES

VERSATILE STAR

Fay Wray is considered one of the most versatile actresses in Hollywood. Her roles vary from straight leading women to adventuresses, attorneys, society debutantes, ingenues, heroines in "horror" pictures and a clever young woman on the loose in New York, accused of grand larceny. The latter part is the role she enacts in her latest Columbia production.

FORMER STAR RETURNS

Vera Steadman, starred for years as a comedienne in the silent days of motion pictures, has been cast for a role in "Theodora Goes Wild," which is now being filmed by Columbia Studios as a starring picture for Irene Dunne with Melvyn Douglas.

HEAVYWEIGHT DOGS MAKE DEBUT

Two newcomers to pictures, one five years old and the other two, and weighing a total of 268 pounds, are to be seen on the screen soon in one of Hollywood's most important productions.

The screen novices are St. Bernard dogs named Tom and Jerry, owned by Ronnie Renfro, well-known trainer of motion picture dogs, and are making their movie debut in Frank Capra's Columbia production, "Lost Horizon," to be released shortly with Ronald Colman heading a strong cast.

The massive canines, weighing 140 and 128 respectively, have a daily menu which could not, by any stretch of the imagination, be termed modest. They daily consume 12 pounds of hamburger and three pounds of dog biscuits. Each is fed a quart of milk and four eggs daily, in addition, in order to keep the coat shiny and glossy.

£7,000,000 FILM DEAL

Gaumont-British

The biggest deal in the history of the British cinema industry, by which Mr. John Maxwell, chairman of the Associated British Picture Corporation, will gain financial control of the £7,000,000 Gaumont-British organisation, was reported recently, says the "Morning Post."

It was stated that Mr. Maxwell had bought the Ostrer Brothers' interests in the Metropolis and Bradford Trust Company, which controls the Gaumont-British Picture Corporation by virtue of its holding of 2,915,000 Ordinary 10s. shares of the Corporation.

The exact terms of the deal are to be announced at a later date. Meanwhile, the following statements were issued on behalf of the two companies.

Associated British.—"Negotiations between Messrs. Ostrer and Associated British Pictures in regard to the control of Gaumont-British have been proceeding for some time, with a view to preventing it from passing under foreign control.

"NOT YET COMPLETED"

"Negotiations are now practically completed, and a joint statement of the position by Associated British and the Ostrer Brothers will be issued later."

Gaumont-British—"It is not accurate to say that a deal has been completed between the Gaumont-British Corporation and Mr. John Maxwell. Discussions are proceeding between Mr. Mark Ostrer, Managing Director of Gaumont-British, and Mr. Maxwell. The outcome of these discussions, whatever it may be, will, it is expected, be the subject of a joint statement."

The reference in the first statement to "foreign control" relates to the negotiations which have been proceeding for the past four months between Mr Isidore Ostrer, of Gaumont-British, Mr. Joseph Schenck, Chairman of Twentieth Century Fox Films, and his brother, Mr. Nicolas Schenck, of Loew's Incorporated, the parent company of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

Persistent reports that a deal had been completed between the three interests, which would involve control of Gaumont-British passing into American hands, were followed by equally persistent denials.

AMERICAN REPORTS

Last week the deal was finally declared to be "off," but the film industry was filled with speculation again on learning that Mr. Sidney R. Kent, of Twentieth Century Fox, had arrived in London and was conferring with Mr. Isidore Ostrer. It was believed that Mr. Kent's mission was to smooth over objections which members of Mr. Ostrer's family had raised against certain aspects of the merger.

If Mr. Maxwell's offer is finally accepted it will mean, of course, that control of Gaumont-British remains in this country. It will also make him easily the most powerful figure in the British film trade, controlling upwards of 630 cinemas.

Mr. Maxwell, who was formerly a solicitor in Glasgow, entered the film business in 1912. Starting in a small way he became associated with Mr. Arthur Dent and acquired an interest in various films, of which company he is still chairman.

UPHELD ENGLISH WORK

Having familiarised himself with the renting side of the trade he then embarked upon film production and in 1927 took over studios at Elstree which, under the banner of British International Pictures, turned out many excellent films at a time when the prestige of British films was at its lowest ebb.

The capital of Associated British is £4,000,000, with a Debenture issue of £3,500,000, and that of Gaumont-British £6,250,000. The total assets of the latter Corporation, as disclosed in the last balance-sheet, amount to £13,475,513.

The former firm own 283 cinemas and the latter 350.

UNREGISTERED MUI-TSAI

Heavy Fine Imposed

Another unregistered mui-tsai was unearthed in the Colony on October 8, when Cheung Yan alais Chau Hei, 14, of 16, Wah Yin Fong, ground floor, was discovered by a Chinese constable weeping in the street.

She was taken to Insp. Fraser, S.C.A., and investigations were begun.

Insp. Fraser told Mr. K. Keen at the Central Magistracy yesterday that the young girl was found at midnight in the street. She said that her mistress was Siu Pui-hing, 29, a married woman, of Canton.

Her parents had came to an agreement with defendant's mother and for the consideration of $130 (Canton currency) she was handed over.

The mother gave her to the defendant and she was brought to Hong Kong. Among her duties were washing, cooking and cleaning for which she received no pay.

Since her sojourn in the Colony she had visited her mother only on two occasions, but she had plenty of food and clothing. However, when she was found she was clad in discrepit clothes.

She alleged that she was beaten on several occasions, but no marks of violence were found on her.

Defendant was the concubine of a man who held a high position in Hong Kong, and there was no excuse for her not knowing the regulations. Due publicity had been given to cases of this kind in the press.

Although the mui-tsai did not complain of ill-treatment and she had rather an extensive wardrobe, she was found clothed in very dirty garments.

A fine of $200 was imposed by Mr. Keen.

CHINESE LAW COURTS

For Kowloon And Macao

NO OFFICIAL CONFIRMATION

During the recent visit of Mr. Wang Yung-pan, minister of justice and Mr. Chao Yi-tang, president of the Supreme Court, suggestion was made for the establishment of Chinese law courts in Kowloon and Macao which are leased territories only.

The suggestion will require further consideration before formal negotiations are taken up with foreign powers concerned, states a Canton source.

It is learned that these courts shall be organized along the same line of the First and Second Special District Courts in Shanghai where an agreement with the International and the French Concessions has been made and the Municipal Councils' police can exercise freely their power to assist the Chinese courts in dealing with cases coming up before them.

A press interview with a responsible official of the local law court revealed that there is such a possibility although no official confirmation has been forthcoming.

The Foreign Ministry may deal with the questions directly.

PICKPOCKET CAUGHT

An old trick was used by Wong Kam Siu, unemployed, of no fixed abode, when he attempted to extract a wallet from Chan Iu, 38, also unemployed, as the latter was engrossed in watching a medicine show.

The trick failed when a district watchman saw him, and took him to the police station.

Insp. Logan told Mr. Schofield at the Central Magistracy that there was no evidence that the medicine man was working with the pickpocket.

His Worship imposed a sentence of three months with hard labour on defendant.

MANSLAUGHTER

Li Sai No. 21, a wharf coolie, of No. 15 Haiphong Road was brought before Mr. E. Himsworth at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday charged with manslaughter.

Inspector A. H. Elston said that on October 24, the defendant assaulted Ng Lung Tah, a godown coolie at Haiphong Road and as the result of the injuries received, Ng had died.

The case was remanded for a week.

BRACELET THEFT

$60 Article Stolen By Servant

For the theft of a bracelet valued at $60, Tam Oi, 44, described as an amah in the employ of a married woman, of No. 133 Portland Street, was sentenced to six weeks' imprisonment by Mr. Q. A. A. Macfadyen at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday.

The theft was alleged to have taken place as a result of busy preparations for departure of the mistress of the house for Canton.

It was left on a table and was not thought of until the complainant was in the train, when she told her son to return home and lock it up in the safe. He did as instructed, but found it missing. He then sent a foki to Canton and the complainant returned. She questioned the servants, but all denied knowledge of the article.

Later the police were sent for and defendant admitted theft.

Detective Sub-Inspector R. Cunningham appeared for the prosecution.

NETHERLANDS AVIATION

Interesting And Instructive Film Shown

An interesting and instructive film was shown yesterday evening at the German Club, under the auspices of the Java-China-Japan Lijn, agents of the Royal Dutch Air Lines, (K. L. M.).

A crowd of about seventy guests of the German and Dutch community were present, and refreshments were served before the filming of the picture.

Among the scenes depicted were the different planes of the company, in the act of overhauling, flying over the many routes of Europe and the East, and the vast growth of aviation in the Netherlands.

All were unanimous in voicing approval of the film, and left the graciousness of the German Club with a fuller understanding of yet another aspect of the modern trend of the century.

PETTY THEFT

Wire Stolen From Queen Mary Hospital

For the theft of some wire, valued at $6, from the yard of the Queen Mary Hospital on October 8, Ng Hing, 23, a P.W.D., coolie, was sentenced to two months hard labour by Mr. W. Schofield at the Central Magistracy yesterday.

Mr. A. Spary, overseer of the P.W.D., appeared as the complainant.

Insp. Hourihan said that a watchman saw the defendant with a bundle under his arm at 7.15 p.m., on October 8, and stopped him. Upon being searched, defendant was found to have a quantity of wire, but he accused his companion, Ng Pun, of giving it to him.

Later Ng Hing admitted the theft, and although Ng Pun was charged with receiving, he was discharged from the court as there was no evidence against him.

DANGEROUS GOODS

Chan Kwau, 20, a shop foki and Wong Chan, 20, were brought before Mr. Q. A. A. Macfadyen at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday for possession of dangerous goods without licenses from the I.G.P., to wit one carboid of sulphuric acid, at No. 196 Fook Wing Street, ground floor, on November 9.

Detective-Sergt. Riddell said that following complaints against a strong odour of acid along Fook Wing Street, the police raided the place. The first defendant was out in the yard but the second defendant was actually seen distilling kerosene. A large quantity was found on the premises.

First accused was discharged because of lack of evidence, while second defendant was bound over in the sum of $50 for one year.

FILM THEFT SETTLED

Returned To Owner In Canton

CHARGE WITHDRAWN

Ip Yat Chau, 29, manager of the Nam Kwok Film Company was charged before Mr. K. Keen at the Central Magistracy yesterday, with the theft of a film, titled "Nui Kan Dip" from Lam Woon-keen, of 44, Pak Tai Street, Kowloon, on October 27.

He was defended by Mr. G. S. Ford, of Wilkinson and Grist, while the complainant was represented by Mr. W. A. MacKinlay of Deacons.

Mr. MacKinlay asked for a withdrawal of the case as the defendant had returned the film to the manager of the company at Canton, and no one wished to hear any more about the matter.

His Worship granted the withdrawal.

HEROIN PILLS

Wong Hing, 30, unemployed of No. 335 Reclamation Street and Li Ngan, 24, a married woman also of the same residence, were brought before Mr. E. Himsworth at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday for possession of heroin pills.

LEAGUE MUST BE REFORMED

Regional Pacts Detrimental To Security

LORD ROTHERMERE CRITICISED

The first public meeting sponsored by the Local League of Nations since the Italo-Abysinnian embroglio was held yesterday in the St. John's Cathedral Hall which was attended by a fairly large gathering. Mr. E Himsworth presided and introduced the two speakers, Miss F. Randell, Secretary of the League of Nations, and Miss C. Duncan, Secretary of the Bureau of Social and International Affairs, Melbourne.

PARTING OF THE WAYS

Mr. Himsworth in his introduction said:—"We have seen in the course of the last eighteen months the greatest experiment in international organisation stultified and rejected by the governments of the world because national governments had neither the will nor the courage to make use of the international machinery of the League. To-day we have to face the failures of the League and we are coming to the parting of the ways. International governments will have to decide whether civilization will in future have to be run on co-operative lines through the League or whether the world is going to revert to a system of alliance and international anarchy which can only lead to another 1914.

To-morrow we will remember those of all nations who died in that last murderous cataclysm, and when we view the sorry plight of our world to-day it is difficult to reach any other conclusion than that all the loss, all the sacrifice and all the suffering which was spent in that war to end war, has been spent in vain.

FUTURE OF CIVILIZATION

If there is going to be any peace in the world, if there is going to be any security for mankind, indeed if there is going to be any future for civilisation some means of devising international order out of the present chaos must be found."

Opening her address, Miss Randell was most emphatic in her statement that the League must be reformed. She referred to the fact that many politicians and world celebrities said things they did not mean.

LORD ROTHEREMERE CRITICISED

"Lord Rothermere, interviewed in Tokyo, said, 'By 1940 Germany will be marching through Russia.' I wonder if he knew that Russian financial interests are trying to raise £2,000,000,000 and Germany is endeavouring to help her to get the money. Lord Rotheremere did not mean it, he just said it."

Miss Randell added, "We have got to be careful of what we say and we have got to see whether we can put it in a helpful way."

THE COSTS OF WAR

The speaker pointed out the tremendous costs of war and cited the Italian expenditure in their war against Ethiopia. Referring to Germany she said, "Germany has got away with indemnity for all time." But, Miss Randell continued, in 1870 the French nation was bitterly humiliated by the German. "Germany got from France as many millions of dollars as hate. In France there is always this hate of Germany."

Speaking of conquests, Miss Randell pointed out that a nation has to realise if it conquer another it is burdening itself with a serious responsibility. "You would not like to belong to a conquered country. You only do things worth while when you are free."

Stating that the League must be reformed, the speaker pointed out that the people should demand more from their delegates at the League. She declared it was a pity that peace treaties were not made before the nations got impatient.

REGIONAL PACTS DENOUNCED

Miss Randell denounced the Regional pacts and declared that they must go. It was detrimental to the security of the other nations. She pointed out the Pan-American Union system and believed that the United States had nearly solved the problem of international difficulties.

"To-morrow is Armistice Day," Miss Randell concluded, "and we have a certain military pomp on this day. When we call it International Day we shall have paid our debt to those who sacrificed their lives in the War."

Miss Duncan then was called upon to speak and she dealt briefly with the problems which came up before the delegates at the conference of the Institute of Pacific Relations held in Yosemite, California, last August.

Mr. A. N. Macfadyen then told the listeners that he believed Hong Kong would be vulnerable in the case of war but its people are always delighted to hear from passing travellers news of the outside world. The speaker called for a vote of thanks for both Miss Randell and Miss Duncan.

TWO LOCAL SHIPS SOLD

Shanghai Interests Make Purchase

"SUI AN" AND "LUNG SHAN"

It was learned yesterday that the steamers "Sui An" and "Lung Shan," both well-known on the Hong Kong-Macao-Canton run, have been sold to Chinese private interests at Shanghai. Both steamers ceased their runs at the end of June this year.

Although definite information regarding this could not be obtained, it is believed that the vessels have been sold for a sum of $500,000 Hong Kong dollars.

It was further learned that representatives of the buyers of the "Sui An" and "Lung Shan" are arriving in Hong Kong to-day.

BRILLIANT DISPLAY

Retreat Sounded By R.U.R.

IMPRESSIVE CEREMONY

Spectators at Murray Barracks Parade Ground yesterday witnessed a very interesting event when the Band and Bugles of the 1st Bn. The Royal Ulster Rifles sounded "Retreat." This old-time ceremony is carried out by the Rifles with unfailing regularity, once a month and never fails to attract a large crowd of both civilian and military personnel. The standard of playing attained by the Band of the Royal Ulster Rifles has rarely been equalled in Hong Kong by any British Regiment.

The first item on the programme was a march by the massed Band and Bugles and the display of marching and counter-marching was absolutely dazzling, the thirty buglers in front making an impressive sight.

Then came a march by the Band alone, rendering "Our Director" followed by the Bugles playing the "Royal" Irish." The band then played the March Past of the 18th Royal Irish Regiment after which the Buglers sounded "Fall In."

Next the Band gave a magnificent rendition of that exquisite piece of music, "The Dear Little Shamrock." This was indeed a treat to listen to.

The next item on the programme was a Band and Bugle march, "The Royal South Downs" which was at one time the Regimental March past of the Rifles when they were known as the Royal Irish Rifles.

Then the Bugles sounded the well-known call, "Retreat." As the stirring notes echoed in the evening air, an indescribable wave of emotion appeared to pass through the assembled crowd.

The playing of the National Anthem brought to a conclusion, a most imposing and spectacular event.

LOCAL CHINESE DECORATED

French C.-In-C. Officiates

The residence of the French Consul-General M. J. Leurquin, on Monday afternoon was the scene of an interesting ceremony when His Excellency Vice-Admiral J. P. Esteva, Commander-in-Chief of the French Naval Forces in the Far East, bestowed orders conferred by His Majesty Bao Dai, Emperor of Annam.

There was a large gathering present, which included several prominent French and Chinese personalities. The band of the French Flagship, Lamotte Picquet was in attendance and played pleasing selections during the afternoon. Officers of the Lamotte Picquet, L'Admiral Charnet, and Argus supplemented the gathering.

Both His Excellency and M. Leurquin stressed the friendly feeling between the French, Chinese, Portuguese and and British peoples.

THE RECIPIENTS

Two eminent personages of Macao received Cambodian orders while three Chinese earned Annamite distinctions for their scholastic and commercial services. They were:—

Captain Majer, Chief of Police of Macao, made an Officer of the Order of Million Elephants and White Parasol;

M. Chan Sui-ky, distinguished scholar, as well as prominent business man, made a Knight of the Order of Dragon of Annam.

M. Kwok Chan, Compradore of the Banque de l'Indochine made a Knight of the Order of Dragon of Annam.

M. Lam Chi-fung, representative of the Charbonnages due Tonkin, made a Knight of the Order of Dragon of Annam.

M. Sequeira, Chief of Criminal Intelligence Service of Macao, made a Knight of the Order of Million Elephants and White Parasol.

CONSUL-GENERAL'S ADDRESS

Prior to the ceremony, M. Leurquin said in part: One single word sums up all the foreign policy of France: peace; peace, not dealt on the heads with a bludgeon, but insaturated in the hearts by genuine friendship.

This programme is very easy to announce; we must admit that it is sometimes difficult to be put into practise. At last, it is gratifying to see how it is endorsed and reciprocated amongst others by our friends of Great Britain, Portugal and China.

BEST ASSET IS PEACE

His Excellency, after pinning the decorations on each of the recipients, congratulated them warmly and said in part:

... "this ceremony is in itself a manifestation of the friendship and amity between the countries of France, China, Portugal and Britain." Referring to a recent speech that he had made, His Excellency said "the best asset of a Nation is peace." ... "The best way to enforce peace is to convince the other Nations of our good faith and of our determination to play fair in all our negotiations, diplomatic and commercial. We must not try to gain peace by violence or by annexing the wealth of other Nations."

THOSE PRESENT

The Admiral and the Consul General were supported by the presence of Capt. R. Bastard, Lamotte Picquet; Capt. R de Badens, Gunboat Argus and Commander of the West River Flotilla; and M. C. Rennet, Vice-Consul.

Amongst those present were the Hon. Mr. R. H. Kotewall, Hon Mr. T. N. Chau, Mr. Tang Shiu-kin, Dr. and Mrs. Li Shiu-fan, Mr Peter H. Sin, Miss He'ena Yue, Mr. Kan Tong-po, Mr. and Mrs. Fung Ping-fan, M. Loborinho, relatives of the recipients and many others.

BRAHMS' REQUIEM

To-night's Rendition By Hong Kong Singers

SOPRANO DEBUT

The Hong Kong Singers have already established a tradition of performing on the 11th of November each year a work in keeping with the spirit of Armistice Day. This year "Brahms' Requiem" has again been chosen and will be sung in St. Andrew's Church, Kowloon this evening at 9.15 p.m.

There are undoubtedly a number of works other than Brahms' suitable for this occasion, but no apology is made for repeating the Requiem this year since it will not only be the first performance of the Singers under the baton of their new Conductor, Mr. Lindsay Lafford, but of the soloists, Miss Eva Turner, soprano, will be making her debut in the colony. The baritone solos will be taken by the Rev. H.W. Baines and at the organ will be Mr. Rupert Baldwin, neither of whom need any introduction to musical Hong Kong.

FOR CHARITY

As is customary at all performances of the Singers, the proceeds will be devoted to charity, and this year it has been decided to take up a collection in aid of The Ministering Childrens' League and The St. Andrew's Benevolent Society.

It is confidently believed that the combination of such deserving causes, the spirit of Armistice Day and the fact that this is the first performance of the Singers in Kowloon, will lead to a record congregation in St. Andrew's Church.

A visit to the Salvation Home at Kowloon Tong, was paid by members of the St. Andrew's Church Mothers Union yesterday at 3 p.m.

'PEACE HATH—?"

Throughout the world to-day there will congregate in thousands as well as in tiny groups those who have within them the will to devote portion of Life's fleeting Time to prayer and meditation.

That this day should be so hallowed in the hearts and minds of millions of different nationalities is one of the most significant and inspiring facts in a particularly materialistically-minded world.

We of the British Empire are justified in taking genuine pride in all that this commemoration to-day means to a storm-tossed people, for no nation (and we elect to regard the British Commonwealth of Nations as one nation) has striven more sincerely in the cause of peace than the British. That striving was so altruistically undertaken that it might have ended in disaster. Down the Corridors of Time echo those prophetic words of Tenny son:—

"Step by step we gained a freedom, known to Europe, known to all;

"Step by step we rose to greatness—through the tongue sters we may fall!"

For years academicians talked pacifically, and pacifists talked academically. It was the understandable revulsion against all thought of future wars following on the first world war; it was the splendidly idealistic spirit of British Statesmen which steeled the people against hysterical fear; it was a noble sincerity and tenacity of purpose which reduced the greatest Empire known to history to a condition bordering on impotency. Britain's disarmament policy, in the midst of a frantically arming world, may be regretted on the score of failure—failure to inspire others to follow her lead—but that regret should justly be mingled with pride, for she at least did try to reverence in a practical manner that for which her sons made the supreme sacrifice.

Then came the tragic disillusionment when it was made to appear increasingly plain by other nations, as we have endeavoured to convey in our poem published on the front page to-day, that "Man has not learnt his lesson yet". Britain has ceased to be the scapegoat for peace, and with our leaders we can say in all humility and reverence, "We have re-armed for peace."

Saddening as the thought may be that the glorious hopes of yesterday have been almost shattered, yet he would be a poor creature indeed who could feel that all is lost for the cause of peace. Still there shall be striving, for surely there must be a place of service for the keen vigour, strong enthusiasm and high hopes of the youth of our Empire.

To-day we think of the sacrifices made by our people during the days of that titanic struggle. That unscrupulous creatures, who can only be regarded as the lowest form of life, blatantly profited in the materialistic sense, through that war and the sacrifices of others, is beside the point. Those aliens to British sentiment constituted a minority. The fact remains that the overwhelming majority scorned to profit by electing to sacrifice: yes, to sacrifice even life itself. That spirit still lives.

Let our thought for to-day be this:—That we emulate in the days of peace the self-sacrificing sentiment which animated the British peoples during the days of war; that way lies peace and harmony through a co-operative strength which can hold the world in fee.

Otherwise, has Peace her victories?

BANK OF DANZIG DIRECTORATE

Polish Clamour For Seat

("Hong Kong Daily Press" Special)

Danzig, Nov. 10.

"A Polish Director on the board of the Bank of Danzig is a necessity, to secure close economic relationship between Danzig and Poland, and to guarantee the confidence of the Polish business circles" states the paper "Gazetta Handlowa," taking the occasion of the retirement of one of the directors of the Bank of Danzig as opportunity to raise this demand.

This suggestion, however, apparently meets with little favour in responsible quarters in Danzig, where the following semi-official statement was made:

"In connection with the retirement of the Deputy Director of the Board of the Bank of Danzig Dr. Fritz Meyer, a Warsaw paper raises the demand that one of the directors on the board of the Bank of Danzig should be filled by a personage of Polish nationality, on the grounds that a considerable portion of the capital in the Bank of Danzig is in Polish hands. With regard to this it may be stated that the amount of capital registered in the names of Polish shareholders is only 28 per cent. of the total capital of the Bank, and is therefore not the majority of the capital. This participation of 28 per cent. was agreed upon between Poland and Danzig in the Genoa Currency Agreement in 1923, when the Bank of Danzig was founded."

HONG KONG RIFLE ASSOCIATION

H.E. The Governor To Attend First Annual Dinner

A Meeting of the Council was held last evening at the Hong Kong Hotel when the following were present:—

Major R. D. Walker, M.C., President (in the chair), Dr. Y. S. Wan, Messrs. E. D. D. Wilson, A. Urquhart, W. Austin, T. G. Stokes (Honorary Treasurer) and Major D. H. Steers, R.E. (Honorary Secretary).

After the minutes of the last Meeting had been read and confirmed, the matter of a Sub-Committee to deal with all matters concerning the First Annual Dinner, at which His Excellency the Governor has already intimated his intention of being present, was considered, and it was decided that, under the chairmanship of Mr. W. R. Scott, each affiliated "battalion" or equivalent "unit" together with representatives from the Royal Navy, Royal Marines, Volunteers, Hong Kong Police and the Dockyard and Taikoo Rifle Clubs should serve on this Sub-Committee with the proviso that in the case of the larger units, one Other Rank, to be chosen by the Weapon Training Officer or Honorary Secretary, as the case might be, should also be invited to a seat on this body.

Another Sub-Committee was also appointed to deal with the matter of the management of the new Clubhouse, and its official opening next month. This Sub-Committee was constituted as follows:—Mr. T. G. Stokes, Chairman, Mr. E. D. D. Wilson, Captain Carless, R.M., Dr. Y. S. Wan, representative from the Dockyard and Taikoo Rifle Clubs and the Honorary Secretary. It was decided that the first Meeting of this particular Sub-Committee should be held on Friday next at 5.15 p.m. at the Hong Kong Hotel.

The Honorary Secretary reported that sixty further applications had been received for full membership, all of which were approved by the Council.

It was decided that in order to regularize all shooting on the ranges, and to ensure that members were familiar with the organization which will obtain at the next Annual Prize Meeting, register-keepers should be employed to keep the scores of those firing in all Spoon and Shoots on the Army Ranges.

Copies of the new booklet which has been compiled for the benefit of prospective members of the Association were handed to members of the Council and were approved for distribution to all Secretaries of affiliated Rifle Clubs.

CROAT QUESTION

Belgrade, Nov. 9.

The Yugoslav Regent, Prince Paul, received the Croat leader, Dr. Matschek, at his country residence in Slovenia shortly before departing for London. The meeting was the result of negotiations which had been going on for some time between Belgrade and Agram. It is asserted that Prince Paul wished to get Dr. Matscheu's view on the possibility of settling the Croat question.—Transocean News Service.

EDINBURGH CEREMONIES

YOUTH INVITED TO TAKE PART

It is officially announced that H.R.H. Prince Arthur of Connaught will represent the King at the Armistice ceremony in Edinburgh this year. The King, who has expressed a desire that some member of the royal family should always be present at the Edinburgh ceremony, has specially nominated Prince Arthur.

For the first time Edinburgh's youth is to be invited to participate in the evening ceremony at the Usher Hall. Members of the British Legion (Scotland) who are organising the function, think that in the interests of peace youth should see that the commemoration of November 11 is a solemn remembrance to men who gave their lives for the country.

"We find," said one of them, "that young people regard Armistice Day with contempt as an excuse for old soldiers to rattle the sabre, wave flags, and sentimentalise over the war. We want them to see that we think of war as a horrible business that costs the lives of relatives and friends."

It may even be suggested that Admirals, Generals, and other high officers should not take seats on the platform.

GERMAN-SOVIET AIR SERVICES

New Agreement Reached

("Hong Kong Daily Press" Special)

Berlin, Nov. 10.

The negotiations now in progress between the German Airlines, known as the "Luft Hansa," and the Soviet Russian Airlines, "Aeroflot," concerning an agreement regulating the air services between the two countries, and which expires on December 31, resulted in a new agreement being reached, regulating the passenger and mail air services between the two countries.

It was decided that the "Deruluft," the company that managed this business heretofore, and where the capital had been partly German and partly Russian, should be liquidated, and the service carried out on a pool system, which has already proved eminently satisfactory between other European countries, and is now usual among international air service companies.—Transocean News Service.

FEARFUL POUNDING OF HIGH EXPLOSIVE

STUBBORN RESISTANCE BY DEFENDERS

Insurgents Not Yet Inside The City

Cuatro Vientos, November 10.

The close of the third day of the battle for possession of Madrid, in which the defenders were subjected to the hottest all day long air and artillery bombardment, has so far left the insurgent advance at some points still west of Manzanares river and not yet inside the city. Resistance on the part of Government troops continued to be stubborn despite the fearful pounding of high explosive during a most confused action.

The defenders are reported to have dynamited the Segovia bridge and continue to command the approaches thereto with machine guns posted in the houses on the other side of the river. The militiamen still hold the buildings east of the river near Talavera road which is subjected to ceaseless pounding by insurgent six-inch guns firing about one shell every minute.

RAGGED LINE OF BATTLE FRONT

The front is a most ragged line so, though the Government forces still hold many positions this side of the river, in the other sectors they have already retreated to the factory buildings on the other side whence they make it impossible for the insurgents to cross.

Fighting continued at Casa del Campo fiercely with some success for the Moors and Legionaries who may well have already captured King's bridge which is their immediate objective.—

MADRID COMMUNIQUE

Madrid, Nov. 10.

A Council of defence communique states that the violent artillery duel continued in the morning and all insurgent attacks were repulsed with heavy loss. The rebels did not cross the Manzanares at any point.

Moroccans and Legionaries who penetrated Casa del Campo were bottled up. Government troops successfully counter-attacked at various points, especially in the direction of Villa Verde northeast of Getafe.—

BRITISH REPORT

London, Nov. 10.

The struggle for the possession of the Manzanares bridge on the west side of Madrid is still continuing, according to a report received from the British Charge d'Affaires in Madrid, Mr. Ogilvie Forbes. Government forces, he reports, have fortified this point very strongly, so that it presents a serious obstacle to Franco's troops.

The Nationalists have, however, succeeded in planting their flag on the Toledo bridge, according to a message received from Lisbon.—

FORCING OPENINGS

Madrid, Nov. 16.

Government militia defending Casa del Campo west of Manzanares river are encircled and unlikely to resist much longer. Insurgent planes are heavily bombarding their trenches and fortified buildings. Insurgent tanks are now advancing in an endeavour to force openings into the city through which the infantry can attack. They are progressing cautiously, evidently fearing mines.

DUAL BOMBARDMENT

London, Nov. 10.

News from Madrid received in official quarters in London indicates that the Spanish capital yesterday underwent considerable bombardment from guns and aircraft. Shells fell in several of the main thoroughfares.

A small bomb burst over the garden of the British Embassy, but without causing damage. A building containing the British and American Club was hit.

There are about 125 people in the British Embassy including the Embassy and Consulate employees and guards and their families.

The University City was under heavy barrage yesterday.

The attackers appear to hold most of Casa del Campo on the western outskirts, but do not seem to have advanced in the Carabanchel area.—

STATE OF PANIC AT CAPITAL

Heavy Shelling By Insurgents

Madrid, Nov. 9.

Reuter's correspondent here states that the inhabitants of the capital are now in a complete state of panic, generally. Shells are falling at the rate of three per minute around the Government's defences. Both the War Office and the Opera House are packed with high explosive and a direct hit on either building would mean the end of a large portion of Madrid.

The Casa de Campo, the former private park of the Kings of Spain, is now largely in the hands of the insurgents.

Aircraft have lately dropped 17 bombs on the Salamanca quarter, and 27 were killed or wounded during the bombing of Vallecas, five miles to the south-west of Madrid.—

OCCUPATION IN PROGRESS

Rabat, Nov. 9.

The occupation of Madrid is proceeding methodically, according to a Seville radio despatch, which says that although the Government militia is putting up a determined resistance, the insurgent advance guards have taken the principal bridges across the Manzanares River, and have entered the capital proper from the south-west.—

IMMENSE DAMAGE

Paris, Nov. 9.—

Madrid was subjected to heavy shelling and an aerial bombardment on Monday. The first bomb exploded in the street of the old quarter of the city at 8 a.m., together with the warning sound of sirens. The bombardment continued uninterruptedly, the main targets being Government buildings, the main streets and squares, the Foreign Office, and the old quarters of the town. The dense crowds of smoke settling over the city indicate that immense damage was done. Together with the bombers, observation planes cruised over the city, and pamphlets were dropped, stating that the final capture of Madrid would take place on Tuesday.— Transocean News Service.

MAJOR BATTLES IN PROGRESS

Paris, Nov. 9.

Battles of major proportions are going on in the northwestern, southern and southwestern sections of Madrid, according to the latest afternoon reports received here. The Nationalist troops have succeeded in capturing the "University City" to the northwest of the city, as well as the north section of the famous model prison "Santa Christina" and the Agricultural Institute. With the already announced capture of the Royal Palace and the North Station, the Nationalist are now in control of the entire Manzanares valley, and less than one kilometre from Puerta des Sol.

The troops of General Varela have succeeded in advancing to the bridge leading into the city where they met determined resistance by the Red Militia. Both sides are employing numerous aeroplanes and tanks. The special correspondent to the "Intransigeant" reports that many women are also fighting on the sides of the Marxists and that boiling oil and water was poured from windows on the Nationalist troops advancing through the streets.—

Berlin, Nov. 9.

The former Spanish Ambassador here, Agramonte Cortijo formally took possession of the Spanish Embassy building, for the National Government in Burgos, after the Charge d'Affairs had abandoned the premises hastily on Saturday, handing the keys to the chauffeur. The Red-Yellow-Red Flag of National Spain was hoisted ceremoniously on the flagpole of the Embassy, in the presence of about 150 members of the Spanish Colony here, who cheered the announcement that Agramonte was taking charge of the Embassy's affairs on behalf of the Spanish National Government.

FRENCH PLANES FOR SPAIN

("Hong Kong Daily Press" Special)

Paris, Nov. 10.

The opponents of the Blum Cabinet's policy of rendering passive assistance to the Spanish Marxists by permitting the delivery of war material to Spain continue their endeavours to rouse public opinion to the sense of danger by publishing at frequent intervals revelations as to the extent of the help rendered.

The latest announcement has just appeared in the right wing literary organ, the "Figaro," which puts the total of French airplanes delivered to Spain since July 25, the day when the non-intervention pact was proclaimed, at 87 planes, delivered at short intervals.—

LORD MAYOR'S BANQUET

Premier Addresses Gathering

MR. MACDONALD COLLAPSES

London, Nov. 9.

Mr. Ramsay MacDonald, the former Prime Minister, collapsed in a faint at Mansion House to-night, during speeches at the Lord Mayor's banquet.

He received attention from Lord Dawson of Penn, and thereafter was able to walk to his car leaning on the arm of a policeman, and to drive to his home.

Traditional magnificence characterised the Lord Mayor's banquet. Loud cheers were given for Mr. Stanley Baldwin, the Prime Minister, as he made his way through the brilliantly uniformed crowd of guests.

In a speech after dinner Mr. Baldwin said that Great Britain would support all attempts made to reduce the obstacles in the way of international trade. She had already made a contribution to this end by undertaking not to indulge in competitive devaluation and by her non-exclusive imports policy.

TRADE POLICIES

After welcoming the new Anglo-Italian trade agreement, the Prime Minister said the two nations' relations in the Mediterranean were not divergent but complementary. It was unnecessary to say as much as usual about foreign policy, he added, seeing that it was recently explained in the House of Commons. But one matter was engaging the particular attention of the Government: namely, the Locarno Conference.

This conference, he said, Britain hoped would constitute the first step in a European settlement.

He was particularly gratified, said Mr. Baldwin, at the similarity of the British and American economic policies, which were designed to liberate the world from the shackles now impeding international trade. They took particular exception to the restrictions on trade instituted during the world's depression, and both had a keen desire to help the cause of world peace.

NEW ALLY IN EGYPT

The Anglo-Egyptian treaty, declared the Prime Minister, should constitute an enduring element of stability in the eastern Mediterranean. He welcomed Egypt as a new ally, he said, amid cheers.

With regard to Spain, Great Britain will continue playing a prominent part in persuading both sides to avoid unnecessary suffering for the civil population of the land.

Greeting the Polish Foreign Minister, Colonel Josef Beck, who is at present visiting London, Mr. Baldwin said he looked forward to close Anglo-Polish collaboration.

In conclusion, the Prime Minister dwelt upon the inconceivable folly of the whole of Europe piling up arms and thereby delaying the recovery of international trade on which, alone, could the improvement of the conditions of the people of Europe be based.

"I am prepared to devote all efforts, regardless of costs, to our defences, but I am conscious all the time of the folly of all of us," he declared.—

SOVIET BROADCAST IN ENGLISH

During question time in the House of Commons the attention of the Foreign Secretary was drawn to the transmission in English by the Soviet Union by a Conservative member, who asked what steps the Government intended to take since the Soviet transmitter devoted 15 hours daily to anti-British propaganda.

Lord Cranborne, answering for Mr. Eden, stated that the English broadcasts by the Soviet Union were concerned almost entirely with every-day life in the Soviet Union, and that therefore no action on the part of the British Government was called for.—

HAWAII SEVERELY HIT

Seven steamers are at present immobilised despite a request from Union leaders in San Francisco asking the strikers to resume. The strikers refuse to comply in the hope of obtaining recognition for the claims of longshoreman for whom they are striking in sympathy.

Meanwhile 600 passengers are stranded, adding to the food problem in the islands which is daily becoming more acute.—

MOVEMENT SPREADS

New York, Nov. 9.

The maritime strike has spread to San Francisco shipyards, the Joint Strike Committee to-day announcing the walk-out of approximately 6,000 workers from the three Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation plants.

Ships strike-bound on Pacific coast are being allowed to proceed to their home ports.

New York harbour was calm during the week-end. The strikers assert over 200 vessels and 17,000 men are idle, in Atlantic and Gulf ports alone, but ship-owners say these figures are exaggerated and that only 11 ships are actually tied up.

Meanwhile, Mr. F. W. McGrady, Assistant Secretary of the Department of Labour, announces the resumption of conferences between ship-owners and at least one of the striking unions.—

SOVIET STATE IN SPAIN

Reactions In Other Countries

("Hong Kong Daily Press" Special)

Rome, Nov. 10.

The much-discussed plan to found a Soviet Republic in the section of Spain not yet in the hands of the Nationalists was the subject to a sharp rebuttal in the "Tevere," which declares that such an action would have an immediate reactionary effect in other countries in which the feeling of nationalism is not yet dead.

"The appearance of a Soviet flag over former Spanish territory would suffice to make the people of Europe realise that their freedom and security was in danger. This development would by no means mean the result of an internal evolution, but merely signify that a new base of operation has been found by a country whose tendency to involve the whole world in war can no longer be doubted. The formation of a Soviet State in Spain could never be regarded in the light of the notorious 14 points of President Wilson, but would have to be seen in its true light: scandalous confiscation of a nation's wealth, brutal violation of frontiers, disturbance of the European balance of power and finally as an unbearable burden to the political and military situation in Western Europe."—

SINO-JAPANESE DIFFERENCES

NEW BASIS SOUGHT TO END DEADLOCK

Seventh Meeting Hopes

Nanking, November 10.

Arrangements for the seventh interview between Ambassador Shigeru Kawagoe and Foreign Minister Chang Chun was initiated to-day. Far from yielding to the repeated failures of his past talks with Chinese leaders, Mr. Kawagoe has conveyed to the Chinese authorities, it was disclosed, his desire to discuss the possibilities of further negotiations with Foreign Minister Chang.

Special significance is attached to the meeting because it is believed that an endeavour will be made to find a new basis for deadlock in negotiations that will overcome the present difficulties. Informed diplomatic quarters express the belief that the seventh Kawagoe-Chang conversation is likely to take place on to-day or to-morrow.

INSTRUCTIONS FROM TOKYO

Tokyo instructions to Ambassador Kawagoe are based on the following principles, according to a Japanese report.

1. The policy concerning North China autonomy and anti-Communist co-operation is to undergo no change.

2.—As these are fundamentals in the regulation of Sino-Japanese relations, an understanding on them, at least in principle, is absolutely essential.

3. In the negotiations, the stand of China should be duly respected, and Japan should patiently explain to the Chinese the points in the Japanese demands which they do not understand.

4. Prolongation of the negotiations is inevitable to a certain extent, but any deliberate procrastination by the Chinese must be firmly combatted.

5. Though a speedy settlement is desirable, it must not be sought at the sacrifice of fundamental claims.—

TIME LIMIT RUMOURS

Nanking, Nov. 10.

With both sides apparently unwilling to make negotiations, an atmosphere of uncertainty surrounds the plans for the seventh meeting here of Gen. Chan Chun, the Foreign Minister, and Mr. Shigeru Kawagoe, the Japanese Ambassador, scheduled to commence this afternoon.

This will be the first meeting since Consul-General Suma's return from Tokyo with instructions from the Government to the Ambasador.

It is expected Mr. Kawagoe will indicate decisively whether any agreement can be expected or if Japanese and Chinese views will remain widely divergent as hitherto.

Reports that Mr. Kawagoe may set a time limit for the carrying out of certain of Japan's requirements, are current here, but they are at present not confirmable.—

SUIYUAN INVASION

Peiping, Nov. 10.

Apparently with the object of testing the strength of the defences, the Mongols made several attacks on the Chinese lines from the direction of Pailing-miao yesterday, according to Chinese reports, and were easily repulsed. It is reliably estimated that the Manchukuo-Mongol forces threatening Suiyuan total 30,000. They are assisted by tanks and armoured cars.

It is reported locally that the invasion of Suiyuan may be delayed, pending the outcome of the Nanking negotiations, as the future of Suiyuan is involved in Japan's proposals with regard to North China. The Manchukuo and Mongol leaders from Chahar will, it is reported, visit Tientsin with Japanese militarists in that connection.—

HONG KONG-CANTON CO-OPERATION

General Huang Talks On Recent Visit

Canton, Nov. 10.

After expressing gratitude to the Hong Kong authorities for the hearty welcome extended to him during his recent visit, General Huang Mu-sung, Chairman of the Kwangtung Provincial Government, stated in a weekly memorial service address yesterday that he is striving for the mutual prosperity of Canton and Hong Kong.

General Huang disclosed that he went to Hong Kong on the instructions of General Chiang Kai-shek, President of the Executive Yuan, whose work for consolidating internal peace and unity and efforts in removing foreign menace merit highest respect and admiration. Foreign countries, General Huang said, have a higher regard for China, because General Chiang has unified the country.

"Sir Andrew Caldecott, has expressed warm friendship for China," Chairman Huang continued. "The welcome accorded to us is unprecedented. Because of its historical and geographical conditions, Kwangtung maintains specially intimate relations with Britain. We therefore must co-operate with her for the common good."

Chairman Huang added that Hong Kong shares the same view and recognizes the principle of co-prosperity and co-existence.—

BRITISH INTERESTS IN CHINA

Japan Does Not Wish To Harm Them

London, Nov. 9.

Questioned whether in view of the recent demands by Japan on China, any representations had been made by the British Government to the Japanese Government for the safeguarding of British rights and interests and for the maintenance of Chinese sovereignty, Lord Cranborne for the Foreign Secretary said His Majesty's Government had expressed to both the Japanese and the Chinese Governments, the hope that a settlement may be reached on a friendly basis.

This naturally implied that Chinese sovereignty would be preserved unimpaired. They had also expressed their expectation that British interests would not be adversely affected by any settlement that may be reached.

The Japanese Government had recently given an assurance that they had no desire to harm these interests in any way.—

TENNIS PROS "DIG" AT ONE ANOTHER

Humorous Talks At Rotary Tiffin

MAJOR DUCLOS' "BRIDGE" WARNING TO TILDEN

Honoured guests of the Rotary Club of Hong Kong at their weekly tiffin held at the Roof Garden of the Hong Kong Hotel yesterday, "Big Bill" Tilden and Ellsworth Vines, the two world famous tennis professionals, kept Rotarians and their other guests in high spirits with their live'y talks and witticisms. Both speakers indulged in friendly "digs" at one another.

The President, Mr. W. N. Thomas Tam, on behalf of its members, expressed the Club's sympathy of the death of the son of the Hon. Mr. M. K. Lo.

MR. C. T. WANG'S RESIGNATION

Announcement was made of the resignation of Mr. C. T. Wang, Governor of the 81st District, on account of his new appointment to the post of Chinese Ambassador at Washington. Mr. E. Watanabe, it was also announced, has been elected in place of Mr. S. Yamanaka who resigned.

In introducing "Big Bill' Tilden and Ellsworth Vines, the President said, "Do not make the mistake that they are lawn tennis champions. They are only tennis players."

GUESTS PRESENT

The following guests of the Rotary Club of Hong Kong were then introduced:—Dr. Mai, Hong Kong: Mr. E. C. Kwong, Hong Kong Lawn Tennis Association: Mr. H. R. B. Hancock, H.K.L.T.A.: Mr. D. S. Green, H.K.L.T.A.: Mr. U. Sz Wing, Dodwell and Company: Mr. A. A. Pauw, Amsterdam: Mr. M. Mantel, Hong Kong: Mr. B. K. Carpenter, Hong Kong: Mr. E. E. Bogle, Shanghai: Mr. Sullivan, Hong Kong: Mr. A. W. Hayward, Hong Kong: Mr. R. A. Rodgers, Hong Kong: Mr. Y. H. Kan, Hong Kong: Mr. G. Bodiker, Hong Kong: Mr. A. Nissim, Moxon and Taylor: Mr. D. S. Green, Dunlop Rubber Company: Mr. H. S. Lee, Kuala Lumpur: Mr. W. G. Pirie, Wright and Company: Mr. Marseille, Hong Kong: Mr. W. M. Barton, Hong Kong: Mr. H. Owen Hughes, Hong Kong: and Mr. M. F. Grose Hong Kong.

"BIG BILL'S" ADDRESS

Called upon to make an address, "Big Bill" Tilden said, "I am going to steal a little of Vines' thunder. He plays tennis and I talk it. He stretched his imagination in saying I was a good mixed doub'es player. But I have managed to escape mixed doubles."

The speaker said that some years ago a book on tennis appeared which asked the question whether a woman tennis player should stand at the base-line or at the net. His reply to that question was, where she was least in the way.

TRIED TO BE AN ACTOR

Tilden went on to describe most humorously some of the games he had played in past years. However, he pointed out that some years ago he made the fatal error of trying to be a stage actor. He had been called upon to play the role of a young and handsome hero with the aid of a make-up that took him nearly three hours to put on. Two extremely charming young ladies were seated in the front row and when he made his debut behind the footlights he overheard one of the ladies ask her neighbour. "Is that 'Big Bill' Tilden the tennis player?" Whereupon the other replied, "No, that's his son!"

The speaker went on to say that once he was engaged to play in a tournament in a New York club whose members attended to everything. He was playing with a gentleman who was known as the world's worst player and was, consequently, feeling very badly about it. A young lady then came up to him and asked, "Young man, can you tell me when Mr. Tilden is going to start playing?" Tilden told his listeners that he answered her, "I don't know. I was going to find out myself."

"SPANISH AS SHE IS SPOKEN"

Getting on to his further adventures, the speaker said that a few years back he was a member of a tennis team representing the United States that went down to Mexico City to play in matches there. Among the American players was a young tennis player who rather prided himself on his knowledge of foreign languages. However, he reasoned that he could make himself understood to a Spaniard if he merely added the accent "-eeo" after an English word. One day they were in a Spanish restaurant and he hailed a pretty waitress, saying, "Check-eeo, check-eeo, check-eeo!" To his dismay the young thing replied, "What the heck do you want? The check?" The young man later discovered that every one of the waitresses had been imported from Manhattan.

After "Big Bill" Tilden had delighted his listeners with several anecdotes he referred to his clashes with Vines and concluded, "It is not true that he has put me in my place before."

HOW TILDEN LOSES HIS PARTNERS

Mr. W. N. Thomas Tam then called on Ellsworth Vines to say a few words which the latter began by stating he never knew that the name Vines was a household word until he came to Hong Kong. "Bill forgot to mention one thing, why his mixed doubles partner always deserted him. He tells them, 'Now, partner, you keep to your half of the court and I'll cover mine'."

The speaker then kept his listeners in continued good humour with a few stories and finally concluded his address by saying, "It has been a great pleasure for me to be here to-day. If you come out this afternoon you won't see me doing all the running around."

SPEAKERS THANKED

On behalf of the members of the Rotary Club of Hong Kong, Major V. E. Duclos then thanked the speakers and said, "I am one of those people who have never held a tennis racket in my hand and I suppose that is why I have been called on to-day. Mr. Tilden, I understand you are a good bridge player. Look out, there might be one or two games going on!"

To Ellsworth Vines, Major Duclos said, "Don't be too hard on him. I will be there this afternoon. It is his disadvantage of being middle-aged."

ARMY HORSES GO

Gunners Say Good-bye

A famous brigade of Royal Artillery, the 24th Field Brigade, stationed at Waterloo Barracks, Aldershot, lost their horses recently. They will be mechanised almost immediately, states the "Evening Standard."

The Dragon battery, who are unique in that every horse is a blue roan, have been a horse battery since they were formed in 1812

The men said good-bye to their horses.

Standing on the edge of the square, almost in tears, was Bridget, a 70-year-old Irish woman, who for longer than most people can remember, has stood on the artillery square with her hawker's perambulator

She knows all the horses by name, and one, who has a habit of taking French leave, will always answer to her call, though he will not come back for any of the men of the battery.

Bridget pleaded with the officers of the battery to keep this horse, offering to feed him herself, but the authorities decided he must be sent to the remount depot at Arbourfield Cross, near Reading.

Some of the horses are to be sent to the artillery at Woolwich; others too old for service will be destroyed.

PRINCESS ROYAL AS SALESWOMAN

The Princess Royal spent several hours as a saleswoman recently at the annual Painted Fabrics Exhibition at Wentworth Woodhouse, the Yorkshire seat of Earl and Countess Fitzwilliam.

Her Royal Highness was kept busy at Lady Fitzwilliam's stall for more than an hour, and subsequently visited other rooms, where she again sold samples of work.

The takings in the first hour exceeded £400, a record for the exhibition.

MONOTONOUS EXHIBITION

Vines Beats Tilden In Four Sets

SPARKLING EXCHANGES LACKING

Before a huge crowd which included His Excellency Sir Andrew Caldecott and Lady Caldecott, Vines beat Tilden in their second encounter yesterday afternoon on the Hong Kong Cricket Club ground by the scores of 10-8, 6-4, 3-6, 6-3.

In the opening set both players were cautious and it was not until about the fourteen game that both players opened out a little. The court was much faster than the day before. Both players were also slightly troubled by the sun playing from the Club end. As on the first day both players won their services and it was not until the seventeenth game that Vines broke through Tilden's service and to win his own for set.

MANY MISTAKES

The first set was notable for many mistakes by both players. Vines took some considerable time to settle down and was responsible for many shots into the net. Tilden on the other hand was inclined to overhit.

Vines played very much better in the second set, he took Tilden's opening service and also his second to soon jump into a lead of four games to love. Tilden, however, fought back bravely and managed to snatch four games before the set fell to Vines.

In this set Tilden was exploiting his backhand and forehand slices beautifully and very often caught Vines with low shots. Vines right through this set served brilliantly especially in the game which gave him set when he served four wonderful services to love.

TILDEN LEADS

Tilden jumped into a lead right away in the third set and it looked as if Vines was resting although full credit must be given to Tilden who forced the pace more. Vines very nearly lost this set to love but managed to win three games out of it.

The fourth set opened with the Band of The Ulster Rifles playing their Retreat, on the Murray Parade Ground. Both players were put off slightly for a while. It was soon evident that Vines was all out to win this set and forcing the pace more ran out any easy winner by 6-3. Vines again served superbly in this set and very often left Tilden standing. Tilden appeared to tire in the last set.

As an exhibition by two of the world's leading players the game was very monotonous and lacked enterprise. Play was for the most part from the baseline although the players did approach the net a little more than in their first encounter.

STILL A MARVEL

Tilden for his age demonstrated that he is still a marvel at 43. He still has pace behind his shots and possesses a wonderful backhand slice and cut backhand. He service is still powerful and well placed. What few smashes and volleys we did see from him were severely dealt with.

Vines possesses a faster service than Tilden which kicks a bit. He also controls a perfect backhand which is very similar to Tilden's. Vines also showed that he could volley and smash but we did not see enough of it. One shot which was really delightful was his cross court forehand drive which he was able to vary in length. Both players kept a good length when driving with Tilden's a bit shorter than his opponent's.

BAD UMPIRING

The Umpiring was not at all good and Tilden had two or three times to query decisions. The service linesmen made many mistakes and at all times their calling was bad.

Tilden and Vines left yesterday evening by the President Lincoln for Manila where they are staging further exhibitions and are returning to the Colony on the 16th and 17th inst. when they are to stage further exhibitions on the Hong Kong Cricket Club ground.

RADIO STATION COMMENDED

Soccer Broadcasts Throughout Season

MR. F. V. READ

Too much commendation cannot be heaped on the local radio station, ZBW, for its initiative in securing the services of Mr. F. V. Read to broadcast all important football matches to be played during the season.

Stentorian blasts of vituperation, coupled with insisent comments from correspondents to the press, directed at the radio station here seems to have made some effect.

GATES NOT AFFECTED

In those countries that have broadcasts of all sporting events, statistics show that the attendance at the games have not dropped. The peculiarity of the situation is that listeners-in become more interested in the game, whatever it may be, and decide that it would be more interesting to see the sport than to sit at home listening to the radio.

Another useful purpose to which this broadcasting is put is that patients in hospitals and those who are unavoidably detained from attending an event may still have the pleasure of listening to the progress of the game, especially if the announcer is a good one.

COMMENTATOR'S EXPERIENCE

That Mr. Read is a fine speaker over the radio, with his experience gained on the west coast of Canada and the United States of America, and Shanghai, is testified by the many praises he has received from local sportsmen since he started his first broadcast.

With the amplification sytem installed at the broadcasts Mr. Read is able to give a good description of each play within hearing distance of those who sit in awkward positions of the stand to watch fully the different manoeuvres on the field.

Mr. Read is fully qualified to speak on almost any sport as he figured in the championships in Shanghai in such games as tennis, squash, water polo, cricket and football.

INTERPORT SWIMMER

He has played against Tientsin, Japan and Hong Kong in football and swimming since 1926, and has won numerous cups for tennis. In the last mentioned sport he played in the championships with the Canadian Davis Cup star, W. A. H. Duff.

For many years, Mr. Read was a representative of the Interport swimming team for Shanghai.

Mr. Read has a style reminiscent of the better announcers in America, and his attempts at keeping the interest of the spectators are not allayed one wit by his expressiveness in using rapid-fire descriptions in the jargon of football.

FULL OF PRAISE

In the recent game between the Army and the Navy when the former won, Mr. Read did not spare the losers who, he said, were only playing, among other things, school-boy football.

The sailors who could not attend the game were able to listen in to the account of the game, and without an exception, they all agreed that the announcer was a very good one.

It is greatly to be hoped that ZBW will in ture adopt other progressive steps in radio broadcasting, especially after this advancement which is most certainly one in the right direction.

All are urged to attend the football match between the combined Services and the Civilians this afternoon. The proceeds of the match go to a worthy cause, the Earl Haig Fund, and two strong teams will be pitted against one another.

To say the least, an interesting game will be played to-day at the Club ground, and a large crowd is expected.

The Proven

STOMACH REMEDY

for Bad Cases

Amazing evidence of the remarkable speed with which indigestion and stomach pains can be stopped has been revealed by medical experiments and X-ray photographs of actual cases. These prove the ingredients of 'Bisurated' Magnesia to be the quickest-acting and most effective known to medical science. Within 5 minutes a teaspoonful of 'Bisurated' Magnesia in a little water produced complete relief in cases where numberless other remedies had failed entirely.

Its Action Explained—

Simply take a teaspoonful of the powder in a little water. The moment this soothing draught reaches the tortured stomach it begins to sweeten the sour, fermenting undigested food. The contents of the stomach become as bland and soothing as milk to the sensitive stomach lining. The pain quickly lessens and presently disappears. By following up the treatment after each meal, your harassed stomach will soon lose its tenderness and grow strong, until you can eat whatever you like and enjoy every meal, without fear of wind and pain.

A NOTED ENGLISH DOCTOR SAYS:

"I find that 'Bisurated' Magnesia taken after my meals is the only thing that keeps me free from pain and discomfort, and I take it regularly. I often prescribe it for my patients, and have had very good results."

H.G. —— M.A., M.R.C.S., L.R.C.P.

ANOTHER DOCTOR SAYS:

"'Bisurated' Magnesia gives excellent results and is the ideal remedy for stomach pains and acidity. It is particularly recommended for Dyspepsia, Gastritis, Stomach Pains, Flatulence, and even Stomach Ulcers."

H. L ——, Faculty of Medicine, Paris.

TSUI ASKED TO MANILA

For The All-Comers Championship

Tsui Wai-pui, open singles champion of the Colony might participate in Manila next year, in the Philippines All-Comers tennis championship.

Mr. L.R. Ildefonso has received an invitation from Dr. Ylanan, head of the P.I.L.T.A., but it is not yet definitely known whether Tsui will be able to accept. According to information received here, the Philippines L.T.A. has also decided to invite two ranking Japanese players.

If it is possible for Tsui to accept the invitation, Hong Kong will officially be represented at the Philippines All-comers championship for the first time.

It is also probable, if the Colony champion makes the trip, he will be invited to participate in a tennis tour embracing the provinces.

LEWIS THE CONQUERER

Harvey Fails To Win Title

NEGRO'S POINTS DECISION

Wembley, Nov. 9.

In the Empire Stadium to-night, before a crowd of 12,000 persons, Len Harvey, the Cornish veteran, fought through 15 gruelling rounds with the American negro, John Henry Lewis, for the light-heavyweight championship of the world, and lost the decision. He was outpointed by the title-holder.

Lewis weighed 172 and Harvey 172 pounds. Harvey started the fight with an advantage: Lewis had a damaged right eye before he came into the ring and it was heavily plastered.

The Cornishman led off with a straight left and hooked and boxed confidently. Lewis was several times warned for holding infringements during the first six rounds, and Harvey was warned when, after the referee had spoken to both men, he hit out at Lewis.

Harvey at first concentrated on his opponent's head, causing the negro's seconds to work over his eye between rounds.

DEFENCE IS SUPERB

In the middle rounds the Cornishman attacked his oponent's body with right and left jabs and Lewis scored with his left, hooking to the jaw several times. He missed with his right occasionally.

Lewis changed his tactics, finally, and concentrated on Harvey's body, for the other was boxing superbly and allowing few openings. Lewis fought in close, where he was slightly quicker than the challenger.

Harvey, with a long, hard left, prevented many of the American's rushes, but Lewis twice got through and knocked back the Cornishman's head, following up with a right hand hook that was just off the mark. The challenger was boxing beautifully all this time, and particularly in the eighth round when he checked the American's offensive.

EYE GUARDED CLOSELY

Lewis was guarding his damaged eye closely now. Harvey, after manoeuvring, feinted and struck when Lewis dropped his guard, and landed an inch or two under the bad eye, on the cheek.

Lewis got Harvey in a corner and caught him with a left to the jaw and a right to the head as he rebounded from the ropes. The fight was tedious at this stage.

The tenth and eleventh rounds were fought at very close range. Harvey had a damaged left eye, which was badly swollen and almost closed. Lewis blocked and cuffed with open gloves.

FIGHTING

In the fourteenth round they stood and slugged toe-to-toe. Lewis had the better of the exchange in the first furious spell, but Harvey stung his opponent with straight lefts to the face. The pace was terrific, Harvey landed a left and right to the champion's jaw. The Cornishman hooked repeatedly and perfectly into the American's ribs.

The fifteenth started in whirling fashion. Harvey landed a right with a sickening thud and Lewis staggered and appeared badly dazed. Harvey continued to punish him with lefts and rights to the head.

The verdict was anounced amid considerable booing.—Reuter.

PERRY'S DECISION CONFIRMED

Now In The "Big Money"

New York, Nov. 10.

Fred Perry has turned professional.

Perry will tour with Vines and others, making his debut in the Madison Square Gardens in January and receiving a guaranteed percentage of the gate receipts, expected to yield him $100,000 (U.S. currency) annually.

Perry's backers are a group of American sportsmen headed by the former Davis Cup players, Francis Hunter and Howard Voshell.

Perry is guaranteed a minimum of $25,000 a year for his playing.

His first contest will be against Vines on June 1, 1937.

The English star has signed up with Hunter and Voshell for competitive play only and has reserved for himself all other rights and privileges as a professional. At the moment he is en route to Hollywood by train.—Reuter.

ARMY'S BRILLIANT START

Strongest Side For Many Years

SPARTAN LEAGUE OUTPLAYED

The Army football team started the season with a convincing win over the Spartan League at the Oval ground, Tidworth recently. The final score was only 3 goals to 1 in their favour, but the Army were attacking nearly all the time.

Well supported by Eastham, Goslin, and Dennis the Army forwards played such brilliant constructive football that the Spartan League were kept for long periods on the defensive. The outside men, L. Brown and Cross, did most of the shooting, but Delaney, a new centre-forward, also proved himself a clever marksman. Mudford, and Lyness worked like heroes throughout.

L. Brown, last season's centre-forward, now appearing at outside-right, was the success of the match. His dribbling at full speed was perfect, his shooting deadly, and he was continually making skillful openings for his fellows. There is a weakness at left-back. V. Brown failing to rise to the occasion in that position, but otherwise the defence was very sound. Altogether the Army look like having their strongest side for many years.

GOOD SAVES

Bunch brought off some good saves, one especially fine from Lyness. Trott and Adams, the backs, and Morey, the new centre-half, defended well, but the wing half-backs did not give a very impressive display.

Early in the game following some sparkling work by L. Brown on the right wing, Delaney put the Army ahead. Afterwards the match developed into a stern contest between the Army forwards and the Spartan backs and half-backs, but the visiting defence was so keen that the Army did not score again until early in the second half.

Then L. Brown sent in a terrific shot followed it up with a charge, and the ball was in the net, deflected there in the excitement of the scramble by a Spartan defender. A Spartan rally, during which Halls tricked Kirkland and J. Brown and scored a good goal, evened matters up considerably, but the Army always had a firm grip of the game afterwards, and Delaney added to their lead with an excellent shot.

IMPROVING LOT OF LABOUR

Roosevelt's Promises

Washington, Nov. 9.

President F. D. Roosevelt to-day predicted that the coming year would be an outstanding one in the annals of Labour legislation.

Delivering a message to the third National Conference on Labour legislation, he said he believed the United States had just given a mandate to the legislators and executives of the country for the adoption of this much-needed labour legislation. He believed the mandate directed the legislators to proceed along these lines until the workers in every station throughout the country were assured of decent working conditions.—Reuter.

ANGLO-ITALIAN DEBTS

Clearing Agreement Terms

London, Nov. 9.

A summary of the terms of the new Anglo-Italian clearing agreement and commercial agreement, was communicated to the House of Commons by the President of Board of Trade, Mr. Walter Runciman who expressed the hope that they would enable trade between the two countries to be satisfactorily re-established on a basis which would promote a progressive return to normal conditions.

The clearing agreement provides that all debts in respect of the price of Italian imported goods into the United Kingdom, shall continue to be paid to the Anglo-Italian Clearing Office, and that this sterling shall be allocated as follows: 70 per cent to the current trade, i.e. trade after July 14, last: 27 per cent to commercial arrears of which 18 per cent will be allocated in respect of the agreement debts for imports into Italy from the United Kingdom, or freights for the period, March 17, 1935 to November 18, 1935, covered by the payments agreement of April, 1935; and 9 per cent to the pre-agreement debts and extra agreement debts, the former having being incurred before March 18, 1935 and the latter between November 17, 1935 and July 15, 1936. The remaining 3 per cent was for financial debts and remittances. The sterling collected by the Anglo-Italian Clearing Office from July 15 to November 15, is to be allocated as to 50 per cent to the current trade and as to 50 per cent. to the arrears.

Under the commercial agreement, the Italian Government undertake in effect that they will authorise imports into Italy of United Kingdom goods, and codfish from Newfoundland to a total quarterly value of lire 97 million. Restriction of the current trade to this level, has been arranged in order to ensure that there will not be any fresh accumulation of untransferred arrears. For coal and coke, the quarter quota will be lire 43.5 million.—British Wireless.

THIRTEEN LIVES LOST AT SEA

German Freighter In Violent Storm

Hamburg, Nov. 9.

A tragic sea catastrophe here claimed 13 lives, when the 4,450 ton German freighter "Isis" of the HAPAG was caught in a violent storm during a voyage to New York and sank on Sunday.

Numerous vessels, including the giant "Queen Mary" intercepted the SOS calls and hurried to the rescue, but only one lifeboat with a deckhand on board was rescued. The last message from the boat announced that the water was already coming into the foreward compartment, and that the crew was taking to the boats.

The "Queen Mary" which was 150 miles from the scene changed her course and hurried to the aid, thereby running directly into the path of the terrible hurricane, battling for hours with gigantic waves.—

ARMISTICE EVE PARTY

Charity Effort At Kowloon C.C.

Observing all the decorum of social amenity, a happy throng, in the contrasting colours of black and white and evening gowns in harmonizing hues, began the dancing at the Armistice Eve party last night at the Kowloon Cricket Club to the music of the Medway Melodians.

After all, the proceeds were to go to charity and each one there joined in the fun.

At 11 p.m., a treat was in store for the delectation of the patrons of la danse: Miss Kathleen Glover, with four of the loveliest and the fairest girls of the League of Health and Beauty, (the Misses Isa Lammert, Kathleen and Maureen Moir, and Mary Sleap) gave an exhibiton of tap dancing.

Pulsating pulchritude paced the floor for fully half an hour to the repeated requests for encores during the interval, while rhythm ran rampant to the syncopated strains of Dorothy Henderson's artistry at the piano.

Messrs. Jack Grenham and Simpson also gave a skit which was well received.

Promptly at 11.30, prizes were given from a raffle for the members of the club, and refreshments were then served to the guests.

At the last stroke of midnight, Mrs. Read brought out the poppies and not one of the immense party refused her request to buy one to enlarge Earl Haig's Fund.

The success of the party is largely due to the dance committee composed of Messrs. Mackenzie, Spary, Dand, Carr and the Hon. Secretary, Labrum.

Loath to leave the merry-making, the party continued until the early hours of this morning, and everyone left with the consoling thought that the evening had been wisely and charitably spent.

German Ex-Servicemen's Telegram To The King

The delegation of German ex servicemen who were in London for a week recently sent the following telegram to the King:—

"After a visit of five days as guests of the British Legion the German ex-servicemen's delegation leave British soil deeply impressed by the sincere comradeship and heartiest hospitality that they have everywhere met with. We know it is owing to the initiative of your Majesty that the old soldiers of both nations have found each other again. I thank your Majesty for the renewed proof of your personal interest, and I know that in this I speak in the name of all German ex-servicemen."—Duke of Coburg, president of the German Ex-servicemen's Union.

"My Dear British Comrades"

"In spite of all difficulties which might have been between us, British and German ex-Servicemen have been the first to take the keen initiative to shake hands and make friends with each other.

"We German ex-Servicemen believe with you, my dear British comrades, in eternal contact of the spirit of those who sacrificed their lives at the front for the cause of their countries, which will last for ever and ever. I think that this spirit of the front, fighting for the peace of the world, will be our best and strongest weapon."

CHINESE ARMY MANOEUVRES

Peiping, Nov. 10.

Beginning from to-morrow, troops of the 29th Army stationed in Peiping will hold regular autumn manoeuvres for four days ending on November 14 under the personal direction of General Sung Cheh-yuan, it is learned to-day.

The scene of the war practices will be in the regions between Huangtsun, Anchuangkuan, Yufachen and Chukuochen near Peiping. General Sung who is now in Tientsin, is expected to return to-morrow.—Central News.

BAD WEATHER FOR CRICKET

M.C.C.–Victoria Match Drawn

Victoria, Nov. 10.

The match between the M.C.C. and Victoria ended to-day in a draw. Victoria carried their total to 384 runs, with Gregory contributing 128. They thus made 40 runs in excess of the M.C.C. total of 344. The visitors spent a short time at the wicket in their second innings, losing three men, when time intervened.

Bitterly cold weather with a gale and heavy hailstorm were the conditions under which the home team resumed their innings late in the morning.

Voce did not play following a strained chest muscle the previous day. He saw a doctor, and is receiving diathermic treatment. It is unlikely that he will be able to play for a week or two.

Barnett was receiving massage treatment for a blow in the ribs received by a ball from McCormick on Friday. His injury, however, is not serious.

Victoria added six runs to their overnight total of 294 for 5 at lunch time, Gregory having 110 not out to his credit.

The match was resumed at 3.30 p.m. under sunny conditions, but the wicket was wet and had to be liberally treated with saw dust.

Gregory in scoring 128 remained for 253 minutes at the wickets. He hit twelve boundaries.

Victoria were all out for 384, their total batting time being 347 minutes. Farnes took 3 for 58 and Allen 3 for 97.

In the second knock of the M.C.C., Worthington and Fagg were dismissed early, the former scoring five and the latter 11. Leyland, 18 not out, played a confident game, but he saw his partner Hardstaff dismissed without scoring a single run. The score was 36 for 3. Frederick took two wickets for ten runs. Time intervened at this stage.—Reuter.

SERIOUS CLASH AT FOOCHOW

Chinese Police And Smugglers

Foochow, Nov. 10.

Formosan smugglers headed by Japanese were involved in a serious clash with Chinese police when they made a forcible attempt to recover contraband woollen goods seized by the Customs.

The smugglers were driven off, but they later surrounded the house of the Customs Commissioner, Mr. F. T. Williams, an American, and endeavoured to compel him to release the goods.

An ugly situation was developing when at the request of the American authorities the Japanese Consul intervened and persuaded the men to disperse.—Reuter

COTTON MILL STRIKE

Workers' Demands On Japanese Owners

Shanghai, Nov. 10.

The striking cotton operatives presented the Japanese mill owners with five demands including a 20 per cent. wage increase for a six-day week instead of the present seven.

Idle workers including many young girls surrounded the mills this morning shouting slogans, but otherwise they were orderly.

The strike at the Chinese mills was settled on the basic of a 10 per cent. wage increase.—Reuter.

KWANGTUNG RADIO STATIONS

Canton, Nov. 9.

In order to perfect communications, the Kwangtung Provincial Government, besides hurrying the completion of all important highways, has decided to improve city and long distance wireless telephonic communication.

It is reported that the Shek Pai Radio Station will soon be in telephonic communication with Hankow and other places, and that the thirty-two districts of Kwangtung Province will be able to communicate with each other early next year by means of six newly-planned radio stations.—Chinese Evening Press.

SILVER GAINS IN STRENGTH

"Financial Times" Comment

London, Nov. 10.

Damping down selling from China contributed in no small part to the present strength of silver, comments the "Financial Times," while Mr. Roosevelt's re-election also induced speculators and other potential buyers to cover their commitments.

Many observers contend it is unlikely that the United States administration will dabble in monetary manipulation and that there is little need to propitiate silver interests in America itself.

On the other hand there are prospects that demand for dollars for commercial investment account will continue unabated. Consequently the United States Government will be unable to secure all the gold required for control level of the dollar and may well resort to silver.

The paper adds that speculators may be playing on this theory and the severe reduction of stocks resulting from America's huge buying campaign last year helps the snowball.—Reuter
